The dominant note of railroad operation is safety first. The insistence of that rule has reduced accidents on railroads to practically the point of nil. Accepting the safety first rule as being sensible for railroad operation, why not apply the same rule to automobile driving? That's what a railroad friend of mine wants to know, and also why another railroad friend neglects to apply the consistency to his automobile driving. Oh, it was just a little unimportant appointment to get to a dinner, but the driver of the car thought the meeting held such significance that he wanted to drive 60 miles an hour over a 45-mile restricted territory. After knocking his friend's hat off several times, he finally arrived at the dinner appointment 30 minutes early, which, by the way, gave his friend plenty of time to brush off his hat.

Lots o' fellows who are always lookin' for a clear title in this life never think of a clear title for the one to come. Maybe they figure there won't be any coming to them.

Someone forgot to tell "Sully" Sullivan that the Elks Denver convention is over. He's still there. At least he's sending mail from Denver. Forwarded an illustrated piece of literature with the picture of a mountain "canary" on one side, and then addressed the card to a certain Santa Ana citizen, when it wasn't necessary. Delivery could have been made without amplification.

Lot o' people writin' more letters, or else not so many of 'em are paying any attention to statements. Postoffice receipts are on the up.

And then there is the aesthetic citizen who is unable to adjust his nerves to a string of freight cars passing through the business district, who inhales the monoxide from the freight line trucks without a murmur. I would welcome a string of loaded freight cars to fill my lungs with gas. However, every man to his own preference.

You know I believe that Major Disaster Committee is a good idea. If my run of tough going continues much longer I can use that committee.

Irving Krick, of the meteorological department of the California Institute of Technology, is credited with having predicted the cold spell and wet season for the southern part of the state, historically recalled as the January freeze of 1937. I would appreciate a copy of his forecast for 1938. That is if they contain return of the calamity of '37. It would at least give some time for preparation.

Mitchell Swings Axe on Budget; Lops Off $1,500

Supervisor John Mitchell has begun swinging his big axe on the $4,000,000 county budget today, with the result that Orange county will not be represented by exhibits at California state or Southern California fairs—a net saving of $1500 or less. Welfare appropriations may also be slashed as a result of a night session of the board last night in which Welfare Director Jack Snow was questioned by board members on his requested $1,466,128 budget.

SAYS SCREAMS CAME FROM WRECKAGE

Woman Tells About Lawrence Crash

A new note was injected into the sketchy story of the crash that sent A. H. M. Lawrence, local cigar store proprietor, plunging to death from a Lemon Heights road yesterday, when Mrs. H. Sprenger told investigating officers she heard screams from the grove where the car was found an hour before the accident was discovered.

Mrs. Sprenger statement led officers to believe Lawrence may not have been killed instantly but instead may have died afterwards.

With no witnesses to the crash, officers were not able to determine accurately the cause of the plunge from the hillside road.

It was probable, however, that a blowout sent Lawrence's car skidding from Skyland drive where it rolled 150 feet down a steep, wooded embankment to come to rest in an avocado grove.

Nearly an hour passed after Mrs. Sprenger heard the screams from the grove before her husband returned home. He immediately went into the grove and found the car standing upright among the trees with Lawrence lying dead nearby. His neck had been broken.

Lawrence, who was 43, and lived on Skyland drive on Lemon Heights, is survived by his wife, Frieda; one sister, Mrs. Margaret F. Kearney of Alhambra, Pa., and one brother, Norman N. Lawrence of New Castle, Pa.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by the Brown and Wagner funeral home.

Four Strikers Sent to Jail

WARREN, O. (AP)—Judge Lynn Griffith sentenced four of eight men arrested during steel strike disturbances here to terms of one to 20 years in the penitentiary today on charges of possession and control of explosives.

Gus Hall, former C.I.O. organizer and the only of the eight to plead innocent to the charges of possessing explosives, will go on trial in September.

The four who received penitentiary terms today are Charles Byers, Sidney Watkins, Joe Oravie and Arthur Scott. The two placed on parole were Andrew Marsh and George Bundas.

Job of Duck Chaser-Backer Irks Orange Police Chief

Police Chief George H. Franzen of Orange, whose job entitles him to wear a blue uniform with brass buttons and arrest dangerous criminals, is getting tired of dropping his dignity to become head chaser-backer for all the loose animals in the citrus city, from calves to ducks and squirrels.

Neighbors in the 500 block on E. Chapman avenue appeared to complain of a "farm" that is being operated at the residence of M. Dargatz. On one city lot it is claimed there are calves, goats, rabbits, 40 turkeys, chickens, geese, ducks, squirrels, bees and canaries.

Franzen stated that these animals often break out of their pens, and he is the official rounder-upper. He was also called to North Batavia street twice in the past week to help pen up some ducks that were loose, and has been on calls to two parts of the city to investigate complaints that large numbers of cats were kept by someone in the neighborhood.

He said he is getting tired of playing nursemaid to a lot of animals, and turned the job over to City Attorney Gordon X. Richmond. The police, legal department and health departments will seek to rid the city of its surplus live stock.

COUPLE WITH HORST CHILD SURRENDER

Rich Woman Beaten In Daring Abduction

CHICAGO. (AP)—Assistant State's Attorney Wilbert F. Crowley said a 30-month-old boy police believed had been kidnaped last night from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Horst was found today at the home of another couple who claimed to be his real parents.

The boy, Donald Horst, was recovered by Crowley and state's attorney's police at the West Side home of John Regan, 26, a machinist, and his wife, Lydia, 25.

Crowley said the Regans came to his office voluntarily this morning after reading newspaper accounts of the taking of Donald from the Horst residence in an exclusive Northwest Side section and told him they had the child.

DENY RANSOM THREAT
Mr. and Mrs. Regan admitted, Crowley said, they took the child while Mrs. Horst battled, screaming, to prevent it.

The Regans denied, however, making any telephone call purporting to be a demand for $5000 ransom. Mrs. Horst reported such a call to police shortly after the child was taken.

The amazing circumstances which Crowley said the Regans related and which he said solved the "kidnaping" but left a baby mixup to be investigated were these: Regan was married to Mrs. Regan Jan. 6, 1935, and Regan was the father but they were not then married. The attending physician, Dr. John A. Rose, told the mother he knew a "wealthy man" who wanted a child.

CLAIM PARENTAGE
Mrs. Regan agreed to let Dr. Rose arrange for care of the child but believed it was a temporary arrangement and signed no papers.

The child was taken from Mrs. Regan 15 minutes after its birth at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ewert. Ewert was a chauffeur for Dr. Rose.

In divulging the above Crowley added his investigation indicated the baby then was given into the care of Mr. and Mrs. Horst and a birth certificate was filed purporting to show the Horsts were the natural parents.

Recently Ewert told Mrs. Regan the Horst's child was hers, Crowley said, and Mrs. Regan decided to take it "at the first opportunity."

ARRESTS SLATED
Capt. Daniel Gilbert of the state's attorney's police said he had ordered his men to round up "everybody who had any connection whatever with the birth of this child."

Captain Gilbert added another baffling phase to the case by declaring that "Horst was the victim of a fraud perpetrated by his wife."

Gilbert said that Horst was notified he was a father and found Mrs. Horst in bed with a child and was congratulated by friends.

Captain Gilbert said his investigators intended to question Dr. Rose, now visiting in Batavia, N. Y., as well as the Regans, the Horsts, the Ewerts and "all others concerned."

YACHT RANGER WINS 3RD RACE

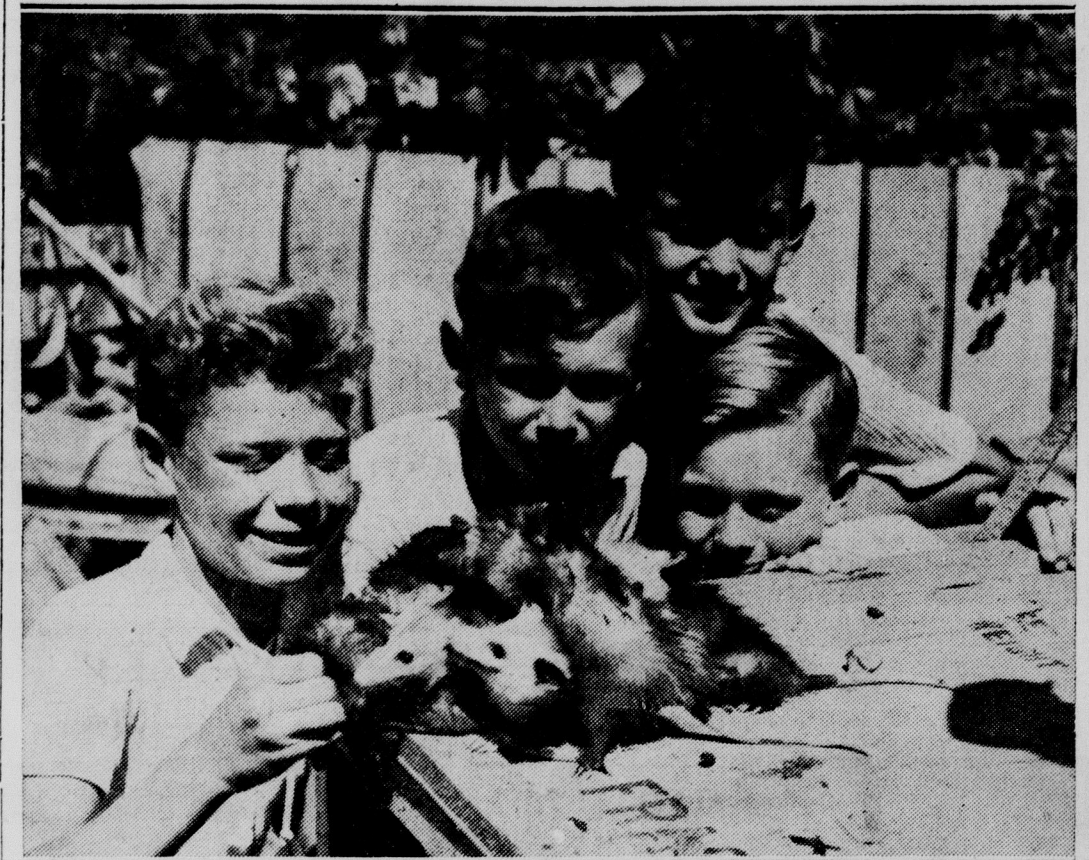

A BOARD COAST GUARD CUTTER, ARGO, OFF NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—After setting a record for the 15-mile boat to windward, Harold S. Vanderbilt's Ranger today gained her third straight victory in defense of the America's cup, finishing nearly a mile in front of T. O. M. Sopwith's British challenger, Endeavour II, at the end of the 30-mile windward-leeward course.

Ranger finished at 3:34:30 p. m. (E. S. T.), official timing.

CHINESE FLEE NEW ATTACK

PEIPING. (AP)—Japanese authorities proclaimed today that continuous bombardments by squadrons of warplanes had routed western concentrations of the Chinese army and blasted a clear path for the southward march of Japanese troops from this conquered Manchurian capital.

The Japanese statement declared that the Chinese troops, reported to have been concentrated in force at Paotingfu, 85 miles south of here, "perished or fled during the air bombardment."

The announcement, scattered from the sky by Japanese planes in a panoply of bombardment, proudly stated "all North Hopeh province has been occupied. The troops of the Nanking government will not come north. If they do the Japanese will strike immediately."

EXPECT BATTLE
A major engagement was expected, however, at Nankow pass, 20 miles north of Peiping, where 4000 Japanese troops were massed for an attack on the Chinese positions north of the great wall.

All Japanese nationals were ordered to evacuate Kaigun, Chinese stronghold and capital of Chahar province, 100 miles to the northwest.

The government of China, apprehensive of the safety of the 3000 Chinese in Japan, was reported to have started their evacuation from the island empire.

JAPANESE ADVANCE
While the Japanese troops at the great wall prepared to strike at the Chinese forces in the north, two reinforced Japanese armies, marching in parallel columns in Eastern and Western Hopeh province, pushed steadily southward against the main defense lines of (Continued on Page 2, Column 3)

Bustle to Banish Flapper Figger

PARIS. (AP)—Modified bustles—brought out of the mists of the 1880s—were featured at today's showings of new Paris fashions.

With back draperies recalling the elegant modes of the nineteenth century, romantic styles came back to the fashion stage. Victorian-inspired black velvet frocks were shown trimmed in old style lace. Striped satins and high waists sounded directorial notes. Patou showed embroideries of old style beads replacing modern paillettes. His tiny jetted muffs dated back to the Edwardian period. Rare patterned white laces trimmed dinner gowns of black and deep blue velvets, while tulle evening dresses were shown with full skirts and tight satin bodices. Narrow evening skirts were spiral trimmed with waving silk fringes. The new Florentine red created by Patou is a light wine shade; his armour green is the color of ancient metal. A great deal of black is being used and many

Mama 'Possum Busy With Nine Kiddies

Out in the backyard of the J. A. George home, 2433 N. Park boulevard, Mrs. Olive O. Opossum and her nine long-tailed babies are the talk of the neighborhood.

Olive is the old woman who lived in a shoe all over again. She has so many half-pint sized opossums that she doesn't know what to do. Certainly she doesn't have time to gnaw through the tough chicken wire of her cage and make an escape like her predecessor did a few days ago from the six North Park boulevard opossum trappers.

The six trappers are Allan and Bill George, Lawrence Coffing, Dexter Ball, Jr., Bob Hall and Jackie Brown—all well known in grade and junior high school circles.

WITHERS ADMIT FRUIT CHARGE

Representatives of the Withers Brothers Citrus Packing company, Placentia, pleaded guilty to charges of packing and preparing for shipment oranges frozen beyond the state tolerance limit.

Appearing before Judge Halsey I. Spence, Fullerton justice of the peace, company officials pleaded guilty to the charges. Judge Spence set Aug. 14 as time for pronouncement of judgment.

Complaint in the case was signed by State Inspector Joe Hightower, of the standardization bureau of the state department of agriculture. Harvey Fox, foreman for Withers Brothers, was named as a defendant in the complaint.

JURY RE-OPENS BRIBE PROBE

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—The county grand jury re-opened its inquiry today into political manipulations in the City of San Gabriel. Several witnesses were called in the grand jury's effort to learn the identity of a man reported to be aspiring to the status of a "political czar" in San Gabriel.

The witnesses included Police Chief H. Powell Sloan, Col. Harry B. Light, former police chief; Walter D. Jenkins, former fire chief, now under indictment; and Benjamin F. Lindley and Mrs. Mrs. Lindley, upon whose recent testimony the Jenkins indictment was based.

At the time the indictment was returned, the Lindleys were reported to have accused Jenkins of instigating a plot in which Lindley was to make affidavits that Mayor Albert May of San Gabriel offered to sell an appointment to the police department.

Doherty Settles $20,000,000 Suit

NEW YORK. (AP)—Henry L. Doherty, ailing utilities magnate, has settled a $20,000,000 accounting suit brought against him by Cities Service stockholders by agreeing to transfer to the company $1,250,000 in common stock. Federal Judge John W. Clancy approved the settlement yesterday after a majority of the stockholders voted to accept Doherty's offer.

BAR WORKERS FROM GLASS FACTORY

Union Organizers Busy Over County

As striking glass workers at the Mississippi Glass factory at Fullerton today maintained an ironclad picket line, refusing at least one workman permission to enter the beleaguered plant, 5000 members of organized labor in Orange county watched with keen interest late developments in a situation which appeared to be rushing toward a climax.

At the same time 75 roofers, out on a "labor holiday" since Monday, expected today to arrange a meeting with employers to settle difficulties over an agreement on working terms, and in the meantime sent out "observers" to watch construction jobs.

Several other unions, bolstered by a strong membership which has soared steadily in recent weeks, meanwhile prepared to submit agreements and contracts to various employer groups, hoping they will have no trouble with employers regarding terms of employment.

REFUSE ADMITTANCE
The situation was most tense at Fullerton, where pickets milled about the factory and refused admittance to a worker sent for by employers. The pickets told The Journal the union has seen to it that there are enough men in the factory to do maintenance work. It was stated that the factory would be boycotted if the strike is not settled in a few days. It has been in progress a week today. Officials of the plant refused to discuss the situation, saying it is "unchanged."

Bill Stewart, captain of the picketing squad, told The Journal the union has asked for contracts for a year, a 15 per cent increase in pay, a closed shop and time and a half for overtime. He said they had been paid from 53 to 75 cents an hour, and that the terrific heat makes working conditions difficult, besides being dangerous.

Bedroom Burglar Gets Old Undies

It was a lean haul the "bed room burglar" made last night.

His loot consisted of some men's and women's underwear. And it wasn't new underwear.

This most recent theft was reported yesterday by Dean Lamb, 114 Owen drive, who showed officers a bedroom screen cut in the usual manner. Detective Hunter Leach was able to photograph a fairly clear fingerprint from the window sill.

I'll Tell You

By BOB BURNS

(Copyright, 1937)
A lotta people wonder why some of the most successful business men came from small towns. There ain't nothin' so mysterious about that. If they get a job in the city, they're put in one department and that department is the only thing they learn while they're in it, but in a small town, they have to learn the business from the ground up and from the back door to the front. That's the reason why when they go to the city, they're just as good in one department as they are in the other.

I had a cousin down home that tried to get a job as a salesman in Doc Meier's Drug store. Doc says, "I'll give you a job, but before you start waitin' on trade, you'll have to learn every article I got in the store." My cousin went to work sweepin' the floor and openin' boxes, but between times, he was studyin' the stock.

Two days later, he says, "Well, Doc, I think I know everything in the store now." And Doc says, "Well, here comes a lady—go ahead and wait on her and let me see what you know about it." When my cousin asked the lady what she wanted, the lady says, "I want some powder." "Quick as flash, my cousin says, 'What kind of powder? Face, tooth, gun or bug?'" (Copyright, 1937) employers at the glass plant would have made working conditions worse than before, and claimed that their agreement was presented to the factory officials 15 days before the walkout.

Union truck drivers, themselves organized into the powerful teamsters' union with about 600 members, have refused to drive up to the factory, it was learned. Shipments of ware from the plant cannot be handled because of arrangements with other union groups, it was stated.

SEEK ROOFING PEACE

Here in Santa Ana, J. A. Henry, business agent and spokesman for the roofers, hoped today to be able to arrange a meeting with employers to iron out contract difficulties. He told The Journal today that he expects the trouble to be over in a day or two.

"Up to this time," he said, "we have been unsuccessful in arranging a meeting with the employers. The boys are all standing by their union 100 per cent." He emphasized that the roofers, organized 98 per cent in the county, are not out on strike. He said they are on a labor holiday. The men in the field are not pickets, he said, but are observers. The roofers' demands for pay increases have been met, but they also want contracts for three months with employers.

OTHER DEVELOPMENTS
Other developments in the labor situation here included:

Teamsters are reported to be about ready to present agreements to employers.

Plumbers are considering asking for a 40-hour week, like the carpenters have.

Butchers will vote tomorrow night on final terms of their contract with employers.

Painters are preparing to ask for a closed shop in cooperation with the carpenters.

Seventy-two new members have joined the clerks' union in the past week, and many retail stores and markets have been signed up 100 per cent here.

little scratching, crawling, long-tails with the button shoe eyes are going to be pets. So it is hoped.

Olive isn't the product of the trappers' skill. She was caught in a hen yard by William E. Patterson, Newport road, Tustin. He presented her and the litter to the boys.

18 IN A SPOON
According to the encyclopedia, which the Park boulevard trappers have studied assiduously, the baby opossums when born are so small that 18 of them could be placed in a teaspoon. The kangaroo-like sack which mama opossum does carry them around in is somewhat larger.

When the little 'possums get bigger, they are carried around on their mother's back with their tails carefully lashed to her long rear protrusion. Olive's family must be nearly a month old now.

In the Park boulevard zoo, Olive is kept 'nigh frantic with the young trappers, her nine youngsters, and a thousand flies pestering her all at once.

At night she gets some peace and has a meal of bacon, fish and fruit.

Olive had no say in the matter, but her quintuplets plus quadruplets have been named Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, Senior, Mike, Ike, Nit, Wit and Ossie.

California, here we come! Santa Ana out for a Sunday drive encounters 26 out-of-state cars on highway 66, in a distance of 20 miles. The count was made out of San Bernardino, traveling north. How many groans were in those cars for the California taxpayer is purely conjecture. But if Orange county's relief load is an indication, property will feel the weight of the additional burden. If there is a continuation of indigent invaders the mathematical problem is: How long will it take to completely confiscate California property?

Immigration Line Joins Father, Son After 18 Years
NEW YORK (AP)—Johan Oosterom, elderly painter from the Netherlands, stood in line awaiting examination by immigration inspectors.

"I'm sorry, but I shall have to refuse to pass you," said the inspector, John Ostrom.

"But why?" asked Oosterom anxiously.

"Because you are my father," Ostrom smiled.

It was the first time Ostrom, who changed his name during the World war, had seen his father in 18 years. Another inspector passed Oosterom—rules prevent inspectors from examining relatives—and he and his son left together.

Iturbi to Train California Lad
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Peter Paul Loyanich, Jr., California piano prodigy, was en route to Philadelphia today to claim a rare honor. He will become the first guest pupil ever accepted by Jose Iturbi, now guest conductor for the Philadelphia symphony orchestra.

Peter, born in San Jose, Calif., gave his first public performance at the age of 5½ years, and made his first concert appearance there last January.

Iturbi was so impressed when he heard the youth perform recently that he invited him to meet him later in Philadelphia.

Grouped around the counsel table are attorneys representing all parties to the "unfair labor practices" case against the Seattle, Wash., Star at a national labor relations board hearing there. The American Newspaper Guild unit called a strike as the result of a dispute with the teamster union over circulation men's guild membership. Left to right, at the table: Samuel B. Watermelon Shortage Perils Success of Courthouse Picnic Supervisors N. E. West and Harry Riley still were looking for a watermelon patch today.

West and Riley have been commissioned to furnish watermelons for Friday night's picnic of county officials and employees at Irvine park, and they're having trouble finding the watermelons.

"Looks like all we can do is buy them," said West today.

Supervisor John Mitchell, dubbed "Coffee John" when he objected vigorously to county employees running out for coffee during working hours, is furnishing coffee.

Chairman Willard Smith of Orange is bringing orange juice. Supervisor Steele Finley, who chimed in with Mitchell in objecting, mostly to Coca-Cola, was scheduled to furnish that beverage, but is now in a hospital. So the Coca-Cola situation was doubtful today.

Constable Jesse Elliott is chairman for the affair, which begins at 6:30 p. m. Employees and their families and friends will eat basket lunches, followed by a program of entertainment and dancing.

County Needs 6 Election Officials to Work Gratis
Wanted: Six Buena Park residents who are willing to work all day as election officials. Pay: nothing.

Supervisors late yesterday found out that although they have power to call an election in Water District No. 2, they have absolutely no power to pay officials for a water district election. Not even $30, which would be the cost for three workers in each of two precincts.

After discussing the matter yesterday morning, the board received a final ruling yesterday afternoon from District Attorney W. F. Menton. Pay warrants for an election last year in Garden Grove went through and were honored, but a later Buena Park election has resulted in six persons still waiting for their $5 each.

"The warrants went through all right in Mitchell's district last year," said one supervisor.

"Yes," smiled another one, "but now we know it's illegal."

JAPAN PLANS MAJOR ATTACK

the Chinese central government troops.

The first fruits of the conquest of North China were believed borne today when the autonomous government of East Opeh announced it was opening its administrative offices in Peiping.

Peiping itself was quiet and all foreigners who have been living in the tent cities set up in the embassy compounds returned to at least temporary residence in their homes.

U. S. WRITER TELLS OF JAPAN ATTACK
PEIPING (AP)—An American writer and his wife reached Peiping from a Buddhist temple refuge today with a story of ruthless warfare.

The Americans—Mr. and Mrs. Gene Lamb of Washington, D. C.—had been isolated in the temple, northwest of Peiping, since the outbreak of Chinese-Japanese hostilities in the area.

"A Japanese motorized brigade came in from Manchoukuo. They had hundreds of tanks. They went through the Chinese troops like a scythe through wheat," Lamb said.

"We saw them bombard Haiyuan, but they didn't stop with that. Their airplanes zoomed over, spitting machine gun bullets at helpless Chinese there and in nearby villages.

"Saturday Japanese troops invaded my compound. The American flag was flying over it, but they paid no attention to that.

"They took our food and anything they thought might be valuable, including $300 mex. Then they had the nerve to offer me a drink of my own beer.

"I didn't see it, but I can produce at least 30 Chinese farmers who will swear that Japanese troops looted homes, threw children from the windows and doors, and attacked girls and women."

Lamb said he hoped to return to rescue 200 Chinese girls from summer camps.

answered the farmer.

MITCHELL LOPS $1500
then withdrew. Mitchell then moved that the county not place exhibits at the fairs, and Supervisors N. E. West seconded the motion.

Mitchell's motion then passed without a dissenting vote.

Dropping of the exhibits and of advertising in Los Angeles and Long Beach newspapers from the advertising budget so far has resulted in lopping approximately $4150 from the expense to taxpayers. Five thousand dollars in newspaper advertising appropriations was dropped by Smith in drawing up the advertising budget, and the advertising manager's salary was upped from $600 to $1200 when the budget was drawn.

Supervisor Mitchell also was seeking a way to chop some money off the welfare budget, perhaps in administration costs, which have risen sharply because of a great increase in the welfare caseload and proposed purchase of automobiles for case workers.

The cars, Welfare Director Snow said, will actually effect savings in visiting costs, since visitors now are paid four and half a cents a mile for use of their own cars, and county cars may be operated for three and a half cents.

NOT ENOUGH
A farmer in need of extra help at haying time, finally asked Si Watson, a town character, if he could help him out.

"What will you pay me?" asked Si.

"I'll pay you what you're worth," answered the farmer.

Si scratched his head a moment, then announced with decision, "No, I'll not work for that!"

12,000 Guardsmen in Camp As Mimic Warfare Opens
SAN LUIS OBISPO (AP)—Twelve thousand troops of the United States fourth army, divided into the "Blues" and the "Browns," were girding today for mimic war on California's central coast.

Slated for action in the combat zone around San Luis Obispo, Morro Bay and Atascadero were artillery, fighting planes, tanks, armored cars, machine guns and other modern instruments of destruction.

From Aug. 9 to 12, under the eyes of 80 umpires, the "Brown" National Guard force, commanded by Maj. Gen. Walter P. Story, Los Angeles, will resist an "attack" by the "Blue" regulars of Brig. Gen. Walter C. Sweeney, Fort Douglas, Utah.

Complete concentration of his forces in the Monterey Bay area was reported by General Sweeney with arrival from San Francisco of the 30th infantry.

However, the motorized 63rd Coast Artillery will not leave Fort MacArthur, San Pedro, until Friday to join the "Blue" fighting line the next day.

Destined to join the "Browns," Utah National Guard units moved out of Salt Lake City by motor convoy yesterday for a four and half day march through Utah, southern Nevada and California.

They comprised 1411 officers and men and 147 trucks, commanded by Brig. Gen. A. Badger of the 65th field artillery brigade.

During the war games, California motorists were warned, highway 1 from Morro Bay to San Luis Obispo, and highway 466 from Morro Bay to Atascadero will virtually be closed to private traffic.

AMBULANCE CRASH WIDOW ASKS $40,980

Asking $40,980 for the death of her husband in behalf of herself and a minor boy, plus additional damages when her second child is born, Mrs. Della Dorothea Biggs, wife of a county hospital orderly, filed suit today against Charlie C. Wilson in superior court.

Mr. Biggs, 32, was killed June 10 along with another orderly when their ambulance was involved in a collision with Wilson's car at First street and Verano road, then crashed into a gasoline station, cremating the two occupants.

Mrs. Biggs alleges in her complaint that Wilson was negligent and reckless. She asks $27,200 for herself, $13,600 for her son, Merlin, and asks leave to join her unborn child as a third-party plaintiff when it is born, and for the court to award it damages also. She also asks $180 funeral expenses.

JUDGE TOLD TO ACT ON APPEAL

Ralph Murane, optometrist, of 2418 Riverside drive, carried his fight against a Santa Ana police speeding charge into superior court today, when he obtained a writ of mandate ordering City Judge John G. Mitchell to forward papers in the case to the higher court.

Murane twice had filed notice of appeal in city court, he alleged in his petition for the writ, and Judge Mitchell had once dismissed the appeal and the second time told him "he would do nothing more in connection with the case."

Presiding Superior Judge H. G. Ames signed the writ, which commands Judge Mitchell to settle Murane's statement on appeal and send papers to the superior court for ruling.

Murane, who filed the petition himself, was fined $8 on the speeding charge, on which he was cited on South Main street May 31. He contended in his city court trial that the street was not thickly enough built up with houses to constitute a residential district, but Judge Mitchell ruled against him.

Menton, Sleeper Go to Sacramento
Two county officials will leave tomorrow for Sacramento, bent on saving for Orange county assessment rolls $2,000,000 in electrical equipment at the Seal Beach lighting plant.

District Attorney W. F. Menton and Assessor James Sleeper will appear before the state board of equalization tomorrow to uphold the county's side of the controversy with the city of Los Angeles, which purchased the Seal Beach plant this year.

Sleeper, on instructions of the state board, had assessed the $2,000,000 worth of machinery as improvements, Los Angeles claims it is personal property, which is not taxable when it belongs to a municipality. Supervisors here have ruled in Sleeper's favor, and if the state board does likewise Los Angeles will carry the case into Orange county's courts.

Youth Jailed in Fatal Crash

Carl Long, 18 (left), was booked by Los Angeles police on suspicion of negligent homicide following the plunge of an automobile down a Hollywood mountain. His companion, Betty Tighe, 19, died in the crash and Long escaped with minor hurts.

MILLS ORANGES TO JUICE PLANT

What's left of 928 packed boxes of frost-damaged valencia oranges started on their last trip today.

The oranges, center of a heated court battle here two weeks ago when state inspectors sought to condemn them, are being sold to the Bireley orangeade plant in Hollywood in conformity with an order yesterday by Superior Judge G. K. Scovel that they be sent to a Southern California by-products plant.

Defense Attorney S. B. Kaufman finally consented to let the oranges go to by-products yesterday, and signed a stipulation which paved the way for Deputy District Attorney Harold McCabe to obtain the court order. State inspectors who seized the fruit July 4 in Anaheim reported samples showed approximately 37 per cent frost damage, and Edward Mills and other packing house officials who defended the suit were unsuccessful in reconditioning the fruit.

Henry Krueger Asks Annulment

Charging his wife had not obtained a final divorce from her previous husband when they were married in Las Vegas, Nev., June 21, of last year, Henry Krueger today had filed suit for annulment of his marriage to Mrs. Dorothy Krueger.

Krueger's complaint, filed in superior court by Harry C. Westover, charges Mrs. Krueger obtained an interlocutory divorce decree in Los Angeles March 30, 1936, from Howard Hutchins, and that the divorce did not become final until this year. The couple separated last May 30, he alleges.

Maid Seeks $2548 Back Pay in Suit

Henrietta Dubracs, housekeeper for the late Henry Diesel of the famous oil motor family, today filed suit in superior court for $2548.75 she alleges is due her for services.

She filed suit against Benjamin A. Diesel, brother of the deceased and executor of his estate, alleging the money was for services performed between Sept. 12, 1933, and April 4, 1937. Mr. Diesel died in Orange last March 30.

500 SERVICE CLUB MEN AT PARK OPENING

Nearly 500 members of Santa Ana service clubs and visiting municipal officials made first use of the city's new Santiago park this afternoon as they gathered in joint sessions to hear Capt. Larry Hassack of the Los Angeles sheriff's office speak on major disaster committee work.

Smoke poured from 16 newly built barbecue grills as waiters piled plates with picnic fare to serve the clubmen gathered around the long tables.

After the meal, chairman of the day, Rodney Bacon of the Lions club, introduced Ernie Layton, acting mayor; Chief of Police Floyd Howard, Fire Chief John Luxembourger and Sheriff Logan Jackson, who introduced visiting mayors, police chiefs, fire chiefs and sheriffs respectively.

At 2:30 a special exhibition of lawn bowling got underway on the park's new green.

CHIEF SEEKS TO ELIMINATE ACCIDENTS

Cites 60 Pct. Drop In Collisions Here

"I firmly believe that there is no excuse for the frightfully enormous figures attached to auto accidents . . . and I intend to prove to the people of Santa Ana that accidents can be not only cut down in number, but may even be eliminated altogether."

With these words Chief Floyd Howard began a story of Santa Ana's campaign for safety published in an issue of the magazine, "Traffic Safety," issued today.

Explaining the plan inaugurated March 1, based on "education, strict law enforcement and courtesy," Chief Howard wrote:

"We will be able in a short time to prove to the world just how foolish it is for American citizens to go about the streets killing each other."

"Through newspaper stories, radio talks over the local station and caution signs placed throughout the city, we are conducting an intensive campaign for safety."

"In law enforcement, no favorites are played. There is no 'fixing' of tickets, and our officers are not talked out of writing them. At the same time our city council passed an ordinance making it a misdemeanor to attempt to fix a traffic ticket."

"When the defendants come to court, fines are meted out. No alibis are accepted, and the newspapers are cooperating by printing the names and addresses of every person fined, regardless of the charge."

Chief Howard cited a decrease of 60 per cent in collisions since March 1 as results of the campaign.

"And most of the arrests we are making," he said, "are out-of-town persons and virtually all of the accidents involve cars that do not belong to local residents."

Seattle's Rip Van Winkle Awakens in Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Like Rip Van Winkle, Glen Moore, 21, woke up on a park bench yesterday and noted with great confusion that things were not as they should be. Moore immediately went to police headquarters and told Detective Lieutenant W. R. Maxwell: "I'm a civil service employee in the navy yards at Bremerton, Wash. Yesterday I started to the bank to cash my boss' check for $44 and my own for $27. I remember falling down as I went out to the office door."

"This morning I woke up on a park bench. I saw banana and palm trees and said to myself—'What goes on?' We don't have these in Seattle." "Then I heard newshybs selling Los Angeles papers and I thought—'Well, well!'" Maxwell figured that Moore awakened in Pershing Square. Moore found in his billfold a receipt for airplane fare from Seattle to the plane. His mother wired him that she would pay for his return trip.

PARK CONCERT HERE TONIGHT

Another concert—sixth in the summer series being given by the Federal Music project band unit and sponsored by the city of Santa Ana—will be heard this evening at 8 o'clock at Birch park. Bandmaster Eddie Klein, injecting variety into the programs by introducing instrumental soloists each week, will feature in tonight's concert a trombone solo, "Cujus Animam" from Stavast Mater (Rossini) played by Oswald N. Stock.

The full program follows: March, Sempere Fidelis (Souza); Overture, Phedre (Massenet); Waltz, Enchantress (Blanke); A Night on the Prado (a Cuban episode by Lake). Following a brief intermission, Luigini's Egyptian Ballet in four parts will be performed preceding the familiar number, Allah's Holiday, from the light opera Katinka, by Friml. Findlandia, a tone poem from the pen of Sibelius, and the Star Spangled Banner will conclude the concert.

On July 20, 4-year-old Henry Ysais was scalded to death when he fell into a tub of wash water, boiling over an open fire in his parents' yard in Santa Ana.

Continue L. A. Air Crash Probe

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Federal and city officials today contemplated restriction of private flying activities after a plane crash in which two persons were killed and two injured.

Frank Jamison, 31, of Beverly Hills, pilot-instructor, and his passenger, Joseph Vierling, 38, remained in serious condition today. Their large plane collided over Dyer airport with a smaller one carrying Chester O. Powers, 27, and Harry Wigley, 18, both of whom were killed as their ship fell in the back yard of a residence.

Vernon Gay, city councilman, introduced a resolution to eliminate Dyer airport from the southwest residential area in the interest of public safety. Joseph Marriott, inspector for the bureau of air commerce, said the accident probably would aid in the drive to amend present licensing regulations.

A police detail staked out at the house, Detective Miller said, and made the raid shortly after Blitzer entered. The name of the second man and the charge against him were not disclosed.

Miller said Blitzer admitted he had appeared in a number of popular movies as Harry Green.

Picketing Halted By Court Order

SANTA MONICA. (AP)—Picketing of a building under construction had been halted today under a temporary restraining order issued by Judge Orlando H. Rhodes, sitting in the Santa Monica department of the superior court.

In addition to the restraining order, a suit for actual damages, amounting to $400, was brought by J. H. Thomas, the contractor, against the building trades union, local 3000. The contractor pointed out that none of his workers were on strike. The workers' organization sought to unionize all employees on the construction job.

WAGE-HOUR SUBSTITUTE PLAN VOTED

House Committee Approves Senate Plan

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The house labor committee voted today to substitute the senate's wage-hour bill for the house measure.

It agreed, however, to incorporate in the senate legislation amendments previously approved. Committee members said the action was designed to expedite recommendation of the bill to the house.

3 OPPOSE MOVE—Only three members, representatives said, voted against substitution of the senate bill. They were Representatives Griswold (D., Ind.), Lambertson (R., Kan.) and Hartley (R., N.J.).

One committee member said the proposed amendment to permit a labor standards board to fix minimum wages as high as 70 cents an hour and a work week as short as 35 hours was not put into the senate bill immediately.

The bill, as passed by the senate, provided that the board could fix no wage higher than 40 cents an hour and no work week shorter than 40 hours.

ADD AMENDMENTS—Previously the house committee had put the 70-cent, 35-hour amendment into the house bill for which the senate bill was substituted.

Two other house committee amendments quickly added to the senate measure would make the bill applicable to local retailers and prohibit shipment in interstate commerce of imported goods produced under standards below those approved by the board.

The committee planned, it was learned, to complete consideration of the legislation today. This would clear the way for the house rules committee to give the measure the right of way to the floor early next week.

POPE DENIES APPROVAL OF INSURGENTS

Spanish Rebel Claim Refuted by Vatican

VATICAN CITY. (AP)—A semi-official Vatican statement said today the Holy See is maintaining cordial relations with the Spanish insurgent government but that no steps had been taken toward formal diplomatic recognition.

The Vatican secretariat described as "inexact" dispatches from Salamanca, seat of the insurgent regime, reporting the insurgents and the Vatican formally were exchanging diplomatic representatives.

It was explained that although the Vatican has given diplomatic approval to the nomination of Pablo de Churrua, Marquis of Ayquina, as insurgent semi-official representative to the Vatican, the situation remains unchanged.

Ayquina is taking the place of the Marquis de Magaz, who is now the insurgent ambassador to Berlin.

"With regard to news coming from Salamanca concerning diplomatic relations between the Holy See and General Francisco Franco's government, no communication is being made from the Vatican on official recognition," the semi-official statement said.

"It is affirmed that nothing is changed with regard to the mission of the Holy See, apostolic delegate now in insurgent Spain, is not on a diplomatic mission, but is there for humanitarian reasons. The position of Papal delegate is without diplomatic standing."

The speakers don't make speeches with their mouths, they dance them out with their feet.

The dancing-delegate convention costume is a streamlined edition of a super-abbreviated bathing suit.

So many people want to get into the sessions they have policemen at the doors to keep them out.

FOUR JAILED IN JUNK THEFT

Closing in on a surprise "stake out" job, four officers last night brought an end to an alleged series of junk thefts in Long Beach and placed four Long Beach men under arrest.

The four were Ray White, 1780 Gaviota street; John Yeager, 1945 Walnut avenue; Cecil Oederkirk, 1925 Walnut avenue, and Hobart Lyman, 1774 Gaviota street.

The men were arrested as they assertedly loaded machinery and junk into a truck near the Alamitos Sugar company factory by Deputy Sheriff G. F. McKelvey and James Musick, and Detectives Ellsworth and Springer of the Long Beach junk detail.

According to the officers' report, they advised that they had been hauling away the junk for a number of weeks. After booking them in the county jail, the four were released pending the signing of a complaint.

The wives of Yeager and Oederkirk, who were present at the scene, were not arrested, the officers said.

Carrots Not So Healthy, Says L. A. Speaker

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Vegetarians to the contrary, the carrot is not a thoroughly nourishing edible for human consumption.

At least that is what Charles H. Wood, addressing the annual convention of the American Progressive Chiropractic association, says.

The carrot causes a toxic condition in the human digestive system, and, in a certain group of arthritis sufferers, 67 per cent were found to be allergic to the vegetable, Wood told the convention yesterday.

Entertainment Union Planned

NEW YORK. (AP)—A drive to organize every person in America's "entertainment industry"—from metropolitan opera divas to stagehands and burlesque's torso-tossers—was projected today by American Federation of Labor leaders.

planned to adopt the rival CIO principle of vertical unionism but without sacrifice of craft union autonomy.

This they propose to do, said George E. Browne, president of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees and Motion Picture Machine Operators, through creation of a giant governing council in which dominant unions in every branch of the amusement field would be represented.

Driver Blamed For Own Death

Placing blame for the death of Weldon Dawson, Capistrano youth killed in a crash last Saturday, on the deceased man himself, a coroner's jury yesterday exonerated Orval Porter, Bell, of any criminal negligence in the accident.

The jury's report declared that Dawson was driving at an excessive rate of speed when his car hit Porter's automobile and careened on into a light pole. The inquest was held in Divil's funeral chapel in San Clemente.

Dancing Teachers Tap Out Speeches With Their Feet

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Notes on the American Dancing Masters convention:

The speakers don't make speeches with their mouths, they dance them out with their feet.

The dancing-delegate convention costume is a streamlined edition of a super-abbreviated bathing suit.

So many people want to get into the sessions they have policemen at the doors to keep them out.

Long Beach Driver Held in Crash

John Vanderwerpt, route 1, box 400, Long Beach, went to the county jail yesterday charged with drunken driving after he was involved in a head-on collision on state route 170A. The other car in the accident was driven by Hazel E. McChuson, route 1, box 129 La Habra. Both cars were damaged but no one was injured.

The most perplexed man at the session was an agent from a sight-seeing company trying to drum up business among the delegates.

"What are you doing?" Barked the uniformed man at the door. "Sight-seeing," answered the sight-seer.

"I'll say," said the officer, "get out."

The masters say people in love dance better than people who aren't.

Experts think a time may come when men won't step on women's feet—and vice versa.

Hundreds of tap-dancing feet sound uncomfortably like machine guns.

A man outside convention hall is advertising that all orders for the scanty dancing suits are being rushed to the manufacturer by carrier pigeon.

"And delivered by pigeons, too?" asked a pretty prospect.

"No, lady," he said, "you see how thin the costumes are. Don't you want the pigeons to do some work?"

A committee to consist of Edward E. Patmor, Hanigan C. Moberly, William M. Marsh, and Clarence M. Norman was appointed to make arrangements for a pot-luck dinner to be held Aug. 24.

Franco's War Machine In New Madrid Drive

By the Associated Press

The Spanish government consolidated its northern armies under a defense junta today and Generalissimo Francisco Franco's insurgent war machine rumbled into new advance positions west of Madrid and on the swiftly shifting eastern front.

An insurgent communique said the insurgents captured Villanueva de la Canada, 15 miles west of Madrid, delivering a severe blow to the government's thrust to lift the siege of Madrid.

Two government battalions were reported in danger of annihilation near Campillo, six miles southwest of Teruel, as encircling insurgent forces severed government communication lines.

The Teruel offensive, heading toward vital lines connecting Madrid and Valencia, reached a point 50 miles from Cuenca. That brought new worries to the Madrid-Valencia government regime, which ended four consecutive days of cabinet sessions on military and defense affairs.

Jesus Hernandez, minister of education, said the new northern defense junta would be similar to the civilian defense organization that successfully directed the defense of besieged Madrid.

The cabinet also took measures to suppress oppositionists within government territory and ordered careful control of food supplies and utilities.

Formal recognition of the insurgent Spanish regime by the Holy See is not contemplated at present, a semi-official Vatican statement declared, describing as "inexact" Salamanca dispatches reporting that Gen. Franco and the Vatican were exchanging formal diplomatic representatives.

HOT POLITICAL FIGHT EXPECTED FOR CITY OFFICES IN H. B.

VOTERS OKED CHANGE IN CHARTER

Three Officials to Seek Re-election

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Local residents today were preparing for a hot election battle within two months, following a favorable vote yesterday on two propositions which make the offices of chief of police, city judge and city attorney automatically vacant.

Greatest interest centers around the office of Chief of Police L. H. Grant, with a former chief and former motor patrolman reported planning to seek his office when a vote is called. George Gelzer, former department head and Vernon Mohn, one-time officer in the department, may run for the office, it was reported. Grant, a popular leader, will seek to hold his office.

SEEKS JUDGE JOB

One opponent is seen for City Judge C. P. Pann, with C. P. Patten, former justice of the peace, expected to seek the position, residents said today.

Former City Attorney Ray Overacker probably will regain his office without competition, it was reported here, as the only other resident qualified to hold the position is Judge Pann. A lawyer must reside in Huntington Beach for three years before becoming eligible for the office according to the new city charter. Overacker was ousted recently by the city council and Assemblyman Thomas Kuchel of Anaheim named to fill his place.

48 PER CENT VOTE

About 48 per cent of the city's 1906 registered voters cast ballots on the two propositions yesterday. On the first proposition, that of making the office of attorney and judge elective under the new charter, 507 voters favored the proposal, while 413 were against it. The chief of police job also was made elective by a vote of 512 to 395.

The city council now must call another election to fill the offices. A date not later than 60 days must be set for the vote.

FOUNTAIN FOR PLAZA SOUGHT

ORANGE.—L. M. Watson, Los Angeles, appeared before last night's meeting of the city council to explain advantages of an illuminated fountain for The Plaza. The total cost was estimated at $3500, with the fountain alone costing $1800.

Mayor A. C. Boice stated that it is not certain that the city will purchase such a fountain, but that it is a possibility. The fountain described is the medium size, smaller than the one in the Fullerton city park.

The jet thrown is 30 feet high at the peak, he said, and changes in color and form of jet makes a total of 126 changes. There are 27 lights, and it takes 21 minutes for a complete cycle change. The pump equipment would be installed in a vault located between the sidewalk and inner walk of the plaza.

City Engineer C. C. Bonebrake reported that it is estimated that it will cost the city about $10 per night for lights and $3 per night for power to operate the fountain from dark until 10 p. m.

Councilmen J. E. Riley and Kellar Watson, Jr., were appointed with C. C. Bonebrake, city engineer, to investigate the matter and report at the next meeting.

'Moby Dick' Hasn't a Chance When Modern Killers Attack

WHALE, HO!

By The (P) Feature Service
"Thar she blows!" is echoing again from crew's nest lookouts as the American whaling industry snaps out of the doldrums it has been in for years.

An alert gunner fires a harpoon deep into the mammoth mammal. Then an attached grenade explodes, spreading the prongs to make escape impossible.

Hauled into the "killer" ship, the whale is towed to a huge sea-going factory capable of extracting oil from as many as 15 in one day. This modern, efficient method—very much different from the days of "Moby Dick" when harpoons were thrown by hand from small boats—is one reason for the boom.

Another is the advance in prices, brought on principally by a government excise tax of 3 cents a pound on all imported whale oil. Last year 4,154,848 gallons produced in the United States were valued at $1,708,370, compared to 1,343,000 gallons at $455,320 in 1935.

Europe, too, is increasing the demand since it has found fat from the oil an important component in butter and lard substitutes.

Japanese Lassies Form Lipstick Army

Wooden muskets of these dancers of the Osaka Girls' Opera troupe in Tokyo, Japan, are unlikely to give much defense, even if an enemy were to threaten. But the dancers' morning military exercises, under the supervision of an army officer, were "to promote the spirit of organized action." Now let the army of the Lipstick Sector advance!

PAIR WED IN G. G. RESIDENCE

GARDEN GROVE.—In a quiet ceremony Sunday morning Mrs. Addie Miller and John W. Miller of Bakersfield were united in marriage by the Rev. H. H. Clouse, retired minister. The ceremony was read in the Clouse home on South Wright street, with Mrs. Cora Parks and W. W. Spurlock attending the couple.

A group of friends and neighbors gathered for a surprise housewarming and buffet wedding supper in the evening. They were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Cooksey, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Fairies and son, Bobby, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Miller and daughter, Evelyn, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hudson and family, Mrs. Eliza Hudson, Mrs. Jennie Ploughman, Mrs. Cora Parks, Mrs. Hattie Williams, Miss Fontella Hudson, John W. Gorham and W. W. Spurlock.

The city council now must call another election to fill the offices. A date not later than 60 days must be set for the vote.

Pension Group Meets in Stanton

STANTON.—Several Townsend club members met recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Renne on Ball road. A social evening with 500 as the diversion followed a short business meeting.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Robison, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Farr, Mr. and Mrs. Freeborn and Mrs. Gladys Nordstrom.

The location of the camp must first be approved by the planning commission, and each trailer must have 15 by 30 feet of ground for its space, exclusive of the car which pulls it. It is unlawful for persons to occupy a trailer outside of an authorized trailer camp, the ordinance provides.

Building Inspector Frank Dale said two camps are contemplated on West Chapman avenue. The sidewalk and inner walk of the plaza.

Fence to Protect Laganans From Music in Dog Pound

LAGUNA BEACH.—A six-foot board fence enclosure to the dog pound, the Humane society collectively hoped at their meeting Tuesday afternoon, will appease petitioners who objected to the city council two weeks ago that canine music from the pound was unbearable.

Prominent humane worker Lewellyn Lissak suggested that a full time employee be kept at the pound to care for the dogs, since Humane Officer Fred Walters, whose work is divided between city and county, could not "devote sufficient time" to catering to the wants of the animals.

Society President Leslie F. Kimball stated that although the society was "in sympathy" with the demands of petitioners, the zone in which the pound was located was the best available. The zone would soon be officially designated as an industrial zone, he added, saying that other cities located pounds in comparable zones.

As to employing a helper for Walters, President Kimball pointed out that it was financially impossible for the city at the present time. Definite hours—between 12 and 1 p. m. every day—were set, however, when Walters will be at the pound to release dogs and to sell licenses.

Miss Lissak further complained that the dogs were not receiving adequate protection from the sun, and that the dogs were constantly yelping for water.

It was decided that 12 new water containers would be bought for the dogs, and a tarpaulin would be put over the enclosure to protect the animals from heat.

The location of the camp must first be approved by the planning commission, and each trailer must have 15 by 30 feet of ground for its space, exclusive of the car which pulls it. It is unlawful for persons to occupy a trailer outside of an authorized trailer camp, the ordinance provides.

ORANGE GETS TRAILER LAW

ORANGE.—A trailer camp ordinance was given its first reading by City Attorney Gordon X. Richmond last night and passed by the city council.

The ordinance regulates sanitary arrangements of such a camp, and places enforcement of the ordinance in the hands of the plumbing inspector, who also will grant the permit for such a camp.

The location of the camp must first be approved by the planning commission, and each trailer must have 15 by 30 feet of ground for its space, exclusive of the car which pulls it. It is unlawful for persons to occupy a trailer outside of an authorized trailer camp, the ordinance provides.

ORANGE BUDGET IS APPROVED

ORANGE.—The budget of $133,964 for the city of Orange was adopted Tuesday evening by the city council, with an increase of $655 over the tentative budget filed at the last meeting.

The city must raise $97,293 next year, $365 more than was needed last year. Last year the amount to be raised was $96,928. An increase in the salary of Building Inspector Frank Dale accounted for $120 of the increase over the tentative budget, and the purchase of a truck for $535 accounted for the balance of the amount. The rate of taxation will be set at the Aug. 25 meeting.

Building Inspector Dale was granted a $10 a month increase in salary after it was pointed out by Councilman Kellar Watson, Jr., that he works at all hours and pays the expense of his car in the job. Monday marked the tenth anniversary of his employment by the city as building inspector.

The location of the camp must first be approved by the planning commission, and each trailer must have 15 by 30 feet of ground for its space, exclusive of the car which pulls it. It is unlawful for persons to occupy a trailer outside of an authorized trailer camp, the ordinance provides.

City Engineer C. C. Bonebrake reported that it is estimated that it will cost the city about $10 per night for lights and $3 per night for power to operate the fountain from dark until 10 p. m.

H. B. Council to Sponsor Miller's Fly Casting Tour

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Richard Miller, breaker of fly-casting records at a recent Long Beach tournament, will go into national competition under the sponsorship of the Huntington Beach city council.

Meeting Monday night, the council headed pleas from various service clubs and voted $250 to send Miller to the national fly tappers' tournament in Buffalo, N. Y. He will leave next Saturday.

Jubilant over the council's decision, the Huntington Beach fly casters' club, of which Miller is president, immediately laid plans for a farewell dinner to be held in the Golden Bear cafe this evening.

Fearful lest usual permission to hold the annual convention of the American Motorcycle association in Huntington Beach might not be granted, P. A. Bigsby, president of the group, appeared in person before the council to make a request for the permit.

The noise of 500 motorcycles in the city for several days has led to many protests by citizens. Considering both the request of the cyclists and the protests, the council referred the matter to the chamber of commerce.

DANCE TO BE L. B. FEATURE

LAGUNA BEACH.—Modernity is the theme of tonight's Festival of Arts chauce sours, with Ryllis Hasoutra and Horace Okey presenting nine unusual interpretative dances.

With few exceptions, the music around which the noted dancers' numbers are designed is comprised of selections from the most "modern" of contemporary composers. Corelli's "Suite," consisting of "Gavotta, Largo and Giga" will open the series, Hasoutra dancing with Violet Case accompanying at the piano.

David Jackson, violinist, and Gene Gattman, dramatic reader, will appear on the program. Appearing with Steadman will be James Malla, noted for bird call imitations.

Aubrey Stauffer will present a girls' accordion ensemble tomorrow afternoon and evening, comprised of Mary Louise Koehler, Marjorie Landis, Mary Margaret Simmons, Lyska Herring, Shirley Ahlf, Louise Conrad and Norma Wra.

Marie Ayres, Margo Goddard and Gene Gattman are dancers to be featured tomorrow afternoon and evening. The Pageant of the Masters will close the program, tonight and each night of the festival.

Two Allen Hibbs, local composer of note, will play songs of his own composition tomorrow evening. Throughout the festival, Hibbs has directed the string orchestra which has provided the musical background for all numbers on the chauce sours.

Lola Larkin, English star in a Broadway revue, is importuned by Winfield Balcom to marry him. Lola says that first his people must approve of her. She knows they do not, and that if Winfield wed without their approval he loses a fortune. Norman Standish, an Englishman, arrives with his bride and rushes to see Lola. It is an affectionate meeting. Mrs. Standish learns of this and engages her friend, Martha Carter, a lawyer, to bring Lola to keep away from her husband. After this, Winfield's parents, Senator and Mrs. Balcom, tell Martha she must make Winfield see that the stage girl he is infatuated with is not worthy. This girl's name, the senator informs Martha, is Lola Larkin!

"What does your son say to all this?" asked Martha.
"He is so foolishly that he tells us to throw the fortune to the winds, for all he cares. I tell you, the boy has lost his head over this bespangled dancing girl!"

"In all fairness, Senator," Martha stated, "Miss Larkin is not a 'bespangled dancing girl.' As I said, she is a star. She is intelligent, beautiful and there has been no public scandal connected with her."

"You don't approve of such a match, I hope!" Mrs. Balcom exclaimed.
"Not at all. I disapprove of it." Martha thought of Cora Standish's husband, and added, "It is quite possible that Miss Larkin will refuse to marry your son."

"Can you imagine," snorted the senator, "a stage girl refusing to marry a handsome young man supposed to be wealthy?"
"But if you would consent to see her—"

"My dear, I just couldn't," Mrs. Balcom cried.

"SEE her," Martha urged. "Explain about the will. Let her know that if she marries your son she will be taking an immense fortune away from him. If as you say, she is after money, that will put an end to it all."

"We have brought you into this, Miss Carter," Senator Balcom explained, "to do that very thing. That is what we want you to do—see her for us."

"Well, promised to help you and I shall, first, however, I want to do a little investigating. You see, I know little about Miss Larkin, aside from her stage complexion and her headlong into this."

"Whatever you do, don't fail us," Mrs. Balcom urged.
"And don't waste too much time," Balcom suggested.

"No, yet if we start to fight openly it will be disastrous. It will make your son more stubborn and determined, and probably be the one thing to anger Miss Larkin into marrying him for revenge on you, if not for love of him solely."

"Just then there was a peculiar rap on the door.
"That's Winfield," the senator said softly to Martha. "Not a hint to him about this, as yet."

Martha nodded and the senator called out, "Come!"

WINFIELD came in breezily, despite the little frown that had been of late taking the place of his usual cheery smile. He hesitated when he saw Martha. Mrs. Balcom introduced them by saying, "I wonder if you remember Miss Carter, Winfield? It has been eight years since you saw her."

"Miss Carter?" He hesitated, as if puzzled.
"Surely, Winfield," his mother explained, "you remember her mother, who was my closest friend."

"Oh, the lawyer?"
Martha smiled and nodded and Winfield instantly became buoyant as he shook hands.

"What luck!" he cried. "What splendid luck! You're just the one I want to have talk with the folks. You are Miss Larkin's lawyer, and you can tell them the truth about her—tell them what a truly fine sweet and good girl Lola is!"

Townsend News, Views

By
WALTER R. ROBB

Big business men are beginning to recognize the value of the principles of the Townsend plan and also to lend their influence with the United States congress in favor of it. One of the latest to publicly champion these principles is George A. Hormel, chairman of the George A. Hormel Packing company, Austin, Minn.

In 1935 his company paid processing taxes amounting to $4,325,017.39. On July 17 Mr. Hormel addressed a letter to Rep. Harold Knutson, Minn., stating in this connection that a 2 per cent transaction tax assessed against the same business as resulted in the $4,325,017 processing taxes would have been approximately $900,000. In his letter he asks "Is it consistent with fair reasoning that an annuity tax of approximately $900,000 would be ruinous, but a processing tax of $4,325,017.39 nearly five times the amount, could be paid without batting an eye?"

Every laboring man in the nation should back up the Townsend organization in its attempt to get generous annuities for the aged and a recovery of opportunity for employment on the part of younger citizens at wages approximating the same per month as would be enjoyed by the elderly in the form of monthly annuities. The Townsend folk will labor on, making converts and spreading the facts of the Townsend plan until business and laboring world in general will be educated to its benefits for them. Then it will become the law of the land. Mr. Hormel is 100 per cent right when he says: "It will make our people happy and will be profitable to business in general."

Attention all Townsend club officers and speakers: Tonight at 7:30 in Santa Ana Townsend hall at 509 West Fourth street, the regular monthly meeting of the Orange County Townsend Club Officers' association will be held. Mrs. Lottie E. Pickering, association secretary, is making the call for the meeting. All past Townsend officers and speakers who are still loyal to the Townsend organization and to Dr. Townsend as the national leader, are invited to be present.

Santa Ana club No. 9 has formulated an auxiliary group composed of the ladies of the club, which will meet tomorrow afternoon in the home of Mrs. C. A. Holladay, 2027 Cypress street, to formulate plans to carry on things beneficial to the Townsend organization. This group will coordinate their efforts as a club group with the Orange county ladies auxiliary which meets every Wednesday in Santa Ana Townsend hall.

Lee Alderman Home from East

Lee Alderman arrived home this morning from a month's vacation in Iowa, Kansas, Denver, Detroit and Chicago. He brought back the usual Kansas insignia—grasshoppers. They literally jammed the radiator. But Kansas isn't in a bad way, says Lee. In Iowa oats going around 100 bushels to the acre, corn never so tall or so good, and wheat in the sunflower state is abundant. Lee enjoyed the Elks convention in Denver, as did the other Santa Ana Elks. Then he inspected Henry Ford's town, went over to Chicago and home via Bryce Canyon and other scenic attractions. His Iowa stop was with old friends and relatives in the town of Nevada.

Her companion, Earl Wilson, 24, was held in jail at Archer City after his arrest near Olney, Archer county, last night by Police Chief A. D. Graves of Olney. "I don't want to marry him now, and I am ready to go home," the girl said.

SHEPPARD TO NAME 3 BOYS TO ACADEMY

Will Hold Civil Service Examinations

Three Orange county youths were offered the chance of a lifetime today.

Congressman Harry R. Sheppard, in a letter to The Journal, announced today that he will appoint two boys to the United States Military Academy and one to the Naval Academy.

Following notification by the war and navy departments of appointments due Congressman Sheppard for 1938, he stated that he would not permit politics to play any part in the selection of boys to either academy.

"Any boy in the 19th congressional district," he said, "is entitled to an opportunity to compete for these appointments. I have contacted the United States civil service commission and they have agreed to give a competitive examination on Nov. 6 of this year for all boys in my district who wish to compete. The boys receiving the highest grades will receive the appointments regardless of political affiliation, race or creed."

Sheppard said any boy wishing to compete for these appointments must file a request with his office before Sept. 15, 1937. All candidates are required to be citizens of the United States and must not be less than 16 years of age and not more than 20 years of age by April 1, 1938.

Candidates cannot be less than five foot, four inches in height.

Arrest Driver After Girl Hurt

A man went to jail early today charged with drunken driving after he had assertedly steered his car into a crash that injured one person.

Miss Ernestine Ray, 303 South Garney street, sustained cuts on her right leg and numerous bruises when the car in which she was riding, driven by Walter A. Atkinson, route 1, box 870A, Orange, crashed into a parked sedan.

The South Main owned by Bruce Harnois, 711-A North Learnon street, Anaheim.

Motor Officers Ernest Zimmerman and William Heard arrested Atkinson on a charge of drunken driving. He was examined by Dr. James Farrage, and committed to the county jail.

Five Missing In Old Sloop

HALIFAX, N. S. (AP)—A radio alarm was broadcast today for five men unreported since Friday in an old 40-foot sloop.

Coastal stations were asked to keep watch for the sailing vessel Phantom, which has not been heard from since she called at Lunenburg four days ago en route to the America's cup races at Newport, R. I.

A violent storm beat in her path off Nova Scotia's southern coast Sunday.

TEETH BUILD HOSPITAL

Dogs' teeth have provided enough money to build a mission hospital in New Guinea. Last autumn Sister Maria Molnar, a missionary from Budapest, Hungary, wrote back home asking members of her church to collect canine teeth and send them to her as they are valuable as currency in New Guinea. Her appeal brought a large shipment of the teeth.

There was none, however, to deny that the young and attractive peered had sunk successfully the strict women's dress traditions of the Royal Yacht Squadron.

She walked across the club's trim lawn yesterday in bright blue linen slacks, sat down and sipped her tea with supreme indifference, while an agitated doorman fluttered nearby.

But she was not ejected. She finished her tea, under the full glare of distinguished spectators. These included Queen Victoria's daughter, the 80-year-old Princess Beatrice.

No one ever had done quite that on the grounds of the "Squadron," which snubs "first generation millionaires" and has just about 250 members.

Once a woman appeared without stockings, but didn't get away with it.

Eastern Railroads Now Run 'Specials' for Camera Fans

CHICAGO. (AP)—The candid camera fans who long ago invaded the theater and the night club have scored again. They now charter special trains and combine an outing with their hobby. "Camera specials" are, however, just another of the many railroads are running to lure fans from the highways.

Railroad officials said the new tours—to ski lands in winter and even to dairy farms in summer—are raising passenger traffic revenues. One line said three "camera fan" specials were planned for August. One a month ago drew a "rush hour" crowd, they said.

Railroad enthusiasts, who insist on unair-conditioned coaches, are signing up for most of the specials, most roads reported. They like the lines little used for passenger traffic and all the windows, one official chuckled, are open because the "fans" like to poke their heads out and examine the right-of-way.

The locomotive admirers and model builders like to see the shops and the roundhouses and the centers for the signal systems.

But even the bikers and the agrarian-minded have had their day. One railroad took about 300 "dairy fans" to Genesee, Wis., recently for a day in the pastures and barns. Another special carried a regiment of bicycle riders to a 12-mile stretch of cross-country road and furnished a police escort on motorcycles to prevent accidents at intersections along the route.

Special arrangements for the specials include "lunch wagon" dining cars where continuous service is available.

420 Teachers To Get Jobs

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—The state board of education will meet in Santa Barbara Aug. 21 to approve appointment of 420 state college teachers for the coming school year.

Dr. Walter F. Dexter, state superintendent of schools, said the appointments already have been made, but it is necessary for the board to approve them.

The board also will fix standards for radio and visual education teachers and grant credentials to teachers qualified to teach the subjects.

Blue Linen Pants Upset Exclusive English Yacht Club

COWES, Eng. (AP)—The gayer folk who belong to "the world's most exclusive club" tittered over their teacups today about Viscountess Hinchinbrooke's blue linen pants and how she got away with wearing them.

Some of the more austere members spluttered.

There was none, however, to deny that the young and attractive peered had sunk successfully the strict women's dress traditions of the Royal Yacht Squadron.

She walked across the club's trim lawn yesterday in bright blue linen slacks, sat down and sipped her tea with supreme indifference, while an agitated doorman fluttered nearby.

But she was not ejected. She finished her tea, under the full glare of distinguished spectators. These included Queen Victoria's daughter, the 80-year-old Princess Beatrice.

No one ever had done quite that on the grounds of the "Squadron," which snubs "first generation millionaires" and has just about 250 members.

Once a woman appeared without stockings, but didn't get away with it.

COAST GUARD 147 YEARS OLD

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The Coast Guard, which once had the job of keeping pirates off the high seas, is 147 years old today.

Secretary Morgenthau sent all hands a birthday greeting, praising the coast guard's "splendid record" which he said had always been "marked by honor."

The coast guard got its start Aug. 4, 1790, as the revenue cutter service. Until 1798 the little fleet was the young republic's only armed force afloat. Congress combined the cutter service and the life-saving service in 1915 and gave them the name Coast Guard.

New Nazi Art Purge Ordered

BERLIN. (AP)—Col. Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering, chief aide to Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler, ordered Prussian officials today to purge public galleries of non-Nazi pictures.

He told the Prussian minister of education to disregard "legal forms of ownership" in clearing house of all painting and sculpture that conflict with the principles recently enunciated by Hitler.

Der Fuehrer, opening the new Munich "house of German art" last month, ordered ruthless eradication of what he called the former "degenerate" era in the reich's artistic life.

Birth Control 'Clinic' Raided

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)—This fashionable town's birth control clinic remained closed today while the police department's vice squad prepared for court action "against everybody connected" with it.

The clinic, officially known as the Mothers' Health office, was raided last night by a squad of officers under Lieut. James Tonnara.

Only a few weeks ago a similar clinic was raided in Salem. Several persons were fined $100 as a result of that raid and their cases are now pending, on appeal, before the superior court.

Objectives of Wagner's Low Cost Housing Bill Explained

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Here are some questions and answers about the low-cost housing bill now before the senate:

What are the bill's objectives? To promote construction of safe and sanitary homes for low-income families at reduced rentals; to eradicate slums.

How would it accomplish these objectives? By authorizing federal financial aid to slum clearance and low-rent housing projects undertaken by public agencies or by limited-profit organizations.

What proportion of the cost would the government donate? Under one plan, an annual amount equal to not more than 45 per cent of the total rental necessary to finance a project. Under an optional plan, not to exceed 40 per cent of the construction or development cost.

What are these two plans? (1) A housing agency could borrow all the money needed for construction. The government would contract to pay sufficient money each year to assure the low-rent character of the project. (2) The government would contribute at the outset 25 per cent of the cost and, at the discretion of the President, an additional 15 per cent in the form of relief labor. The state or community would donate 20 per cent, and the government could lend the balance.

What would be the total cost to the federal treasury? The bill contains authorizations for only the first three years. During that time the government could enter into contracts involving possible payment of $20,000,000 a year for 60 years. Capital grants of $10,000,000 a year for the next three years also would be authorized.

How much housing could be constructed under the plan? Counting demonstration projects, about $800,000,000 would be the maximum program for the first three years. It might be much less because the amount of annual subsidies is based on variable factors.

It would issue $700,000,000 in bonds in the next three years, and the proceeds would be used to make loans. Subsidy payments, lump-sum grants, demonstration projects and administrative cost would be financed by appropriations. The bill authorizes appropriations of $28,000,000 for the next year.

How would the program be administered? A corporate body, the United States Housing Authority, would be created under a five-man board.

How many families would the three-year program rehouse? Senator Wagner (D., N. Y.), author of the bill, estimates 875,000 families.

Who will be eligible to live in the housing units? Only families whose net income does not exceed five times the rental, including the cost of heat, light, water and cooking fuel.

COFFING GIVES PRAISE TO MEN

L. D. Coffing, local Dodge and Plymouth dealer, announced today that eight members of the service department have been awarded the Plymouth certificate of merit.

Those receiving the award are L. D. Faulkner, Vincent Lenert, Tom Allan, Fred Kieselich, William Wick, Buell Faulkner, Emil Jensen and Floyd Epperly.

The certificate, which is signed by D. S. Eddins, president, and J. D. McCrimmon, director of service of the Plymouth Motor corporation, division of Chrysler corporation, is presented to service mechanics and service managers of Dodge-Plymouth dealerships who have demonstrated proficiency and knowledge in the servicing of Plymouth cars. A written examination is the final qualifying test.

"The men in our service department who have earned the certificate of merit deserve great credit," Coffing said.

"By earning it they have proved themselves to be the greatest asset any automobile dealer can have—willing, reliable service men ready to do a good job on any car that comes into their department."

POPLAR ALFORD, Mo. (AP)—Prosecuting Attorney Randolph Weber filed perjury charges today against William H. Grimes, 67, cotton picker, as an aftermath of Grimes' marriage last week to Mary Frances Alexander, who Weber asserted is 11 years old.

The girl, who weighs 52 pounds and is slightly more than four feet tall, was placed in the custody of juvenile authorities. Grimes is in jail here.

Weber charged Grimes gave the girl's age as 18 when he applied for a marriage license.

The girl's parents are share-cropping farmers.

YANKS DRUB WHITE SOX, 7-2, 5-3

SPORTS Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK. (AP)—Tom Gallery and Joe (Napoleon) Levy, rival Los Angeles fight promoters, are warring over outdoor dates. . . . Bill Terry is going to have a "day" here soon, but the real news is that prime mover is a Brooklyn fan-fan. . . . Gen. John J. Phelan, boss of the New York boxing commission was supposed to sail for Europe last night on business connected with his brasserie factory. . . . One of the best informed baseball writers in New York yesterday referred to Dizzy Dean as the "great southpaw." Old Diz may be a bit left-handed in the head, but not in the soup bone, pal.

Tommy Farr isn't burning up the woods in batting practice. . . . This Bobby Riggs kid from Los Angeles is coming right along in tennis. . . . He's landed in eight finals so far this year and lost only one. . . . Note to Pie Traynor: Do you know other National League clubs are swiping signs with the greatest of ease? . . . Catcher Al Todd stands a certain way when a fast ball is coming, but always shifts slightly for a curve.

Joe DiMaggio's current secret desire is to meet Babe Ruth. If Lou Gehrig didn't receive checks from two breakfast food concerns after his bull on the air the other night, he should have.

That former Duke university star, now making a name for himself as a heavyweight, can go under the wing of any one of a half dozen New York fight managers, if he wants to. (Can't spell his name, but it's Polish). . . . Reports persist Bill Terry will sacrifice Gus Mancuso in next winter's campaign to build up the Jints and that Old Gus (who surely rates the chance) will hob up as manager of either the Pirates or Phillies.

For 200 years Europe obtained most of its sugar from Madeira and the Canary Islands.

FIVE HOMERS MARK PLAY

A series for the league lead, an all-star game, or a world series gives many a team the blind staggers. But not Colonel Ruppert's boys in white. The Yanks kept swinging their budgeons and bring home the bacon. They reserve their most momentous feats for days when the competition is tight and the stands are full.

HOME RUNS AGAIN
Employing their time-honored home run technique—"hit 'em when they can't possibly be"—the Yanks blew down the Chicago White Sox in both games of a double-header yesterday, 7 to 2 and 5 to 3, and pushed their league lead to seven games. The season's largest weekday crowd, 66,767 fans, was on hand.

Home runs, trade mark of the Yanks since 1921, won both games. Bill Dickey hit his nineteenth with three on in the eighth inning of the second game to climax a bombardment that had begun when Lou Gehrig, starting his 1,000th consecutive game, had shot his No. 22 into the stands with two mates aboard in the first inning of the opener. In between these two wallops the Yanks batting bandit, Joe DiMaggio and Tony Lazzeri, took care of the scoring. Joe hit No. 32 with two mates aboard in the seventh inning of the first contest and Tony got one in each game.

Red Ruffing muffed the Sox in the opener for his fourteenth victory and Vernon Gomez seemed headed the same way in the second game when the South Side's heroes ganged him for three runs in the seventh and eighth. But when the Yanks came up in the latter inning Rolf singled, DiMaggio doubled, Gehrig walked and Dickey lined one into the stands.

The Sox, who came to New York with gaudy dreams of a four-game sweep, are burdened with a two-game deficit and the series is half over. For the moment their pennant ambitions are squelched.

the Phillies, 4-1, as Lee hurled his twelfth victory. The win gave the Cubs a seven-game lead in the National League over the Giants, who dropped a tight one to the Reds in the tenth, 3-2. The Pirates picked up a game and a half on the Giants by beating the Dodgers, 5-4 and 10-4. The pugacious Al Todd led the Bucs at bat in the second game with two triples, a double and a single.

Bob Grove pitched the Red Sox to a 13-2 triumph over the Indians, and Earle Brucker's homer, his first of the season, beat the Tigers for the A's, 2-1. The Senators shaded the Browns, 3-2, in the twelfth on Johnny Stone's single.

BASEBALL ROOKIES THINK TOO MUCH ABOUT SALARY, BELIEF

DENVER. (AP)—Grover Cleveland Alexander—the once laughed when he was told he could get paid for playing baseball—reminded today over the tendency of young stars to hold out for bonuses.

"I'm afraid a lot of these kids think more about what salary they can collect than about playing ball," he opined from his corner on a dugout bench.

SHOULD BEAR DOWN

"They ought to think first about bearing down in there and playing baseball. I thought the man was crazy when he offered me money to pitch for Galesburg, Ill., back in 1908. Why, I got $250 a month the first year I was in the big leagues and thought I was getting rich."

"Old Pete" is ruddy of complexion and his blue eyes are clear, but his uniform belt encircles a paunch and he hasn't pitched since early spring. "The old souper's just plain worn out, I guess," he said.

He brought a Springfield, Ill., semi-pro team here for the Denver Post tournament and yesterday.

"The bushes aren't as thick as they once were," said Alex. "No matter how obscure his team is, a promising player comes under the eyes of a big league scout sooner than you'd expect."

He is convinced young players have a greater incentive for trying to reach the majors than ever before.

SUPERVISORS YIELD ON SCHOOL FUNDS

WILL PROVIDE FUNDS OVER 'DRY' PERIOD

Protest of School Executives Effective

It took the board of supervisors just two hours yesterday afternoon to decide they should obey the law and transfer funds to carry school districts through until school tax money comes in in December. This money must be loaned by the county to cover operating expenses.

The board must transfer, if it is found unencumbered, some $200,000 to school districts funds to carry the schools over the "dry period" until school revenue comes in in December. This money must be loaned by the county to cover operating expenses.

For capital outlay, as in the cases of several schools which have PWA building programs in operation, the districts will sell tax anticipation warrants at a cost of about three per cent.

SCHOOL HEADS OBJECT

These decisions followed a lengthy session which saw school heads pack the board room to protest Supervisor John Mitchell's opposition to carrying on a 30-year-old policy of allowing schools to operate on anticipated revenue by borrowing from unused, un-earmarked county funds.

District Attorney W. F. Menton said the board had no other choice but to transfer funds to the school districts according to the state political code.

By the end of November, County School Superintendent Ray Adkinson reported, school districts will show a total operating deficit of $462,845. Income from delinquent taxes, county junior college tuition, county supply money and state funds coming in before then will amount to more than $200,000, leaving a total of slightly over $200,000 to be met from county funds.

WILL REVISE FISCAL YEAR

Both school and county governing boards must operate under a handicap because the fiscal year begins long before taxes are collected, and even before tax rates are set or the budgets adopted.

Supervisor N. E. West suggested the school fiscal year be revised to begin in December, which met with approval from school heads. No action was taken on the fund transfer, because Menton will check funds in the county treasury between now and next Tuesday, when the board will decide on the matter.

U. S. C. Educator To Speak Here

Dr. W. H. Burton, noted educator from the University of Southern California, will come to Santa Ana for a series of teacher institute lectures next fall.

Last night the board of education approved the recommendation of Superintendent Frank A. Henderson to bring Dr. Burton here for the lectures. His services will be paid partly by the institute and partly by contributions by the administrators themselves.

Grasshoppers Hop Into Hoppers

Wet, cool spring aided hatching of a plague of grasshoppers in parts of the west, and farmers have been fighting the crop-destroying pests. Here is a "hopperdozer" in the soybean field of Avery Adams at Bloomington, Ill. As the machine passes over the field, the hoppers fly against the screen and drop into poison, at a bushel an hour.

SUPERVISORS GIVE-OWN CASH

Legion drummers and buglers couldn't get any contributions from the county to send them to the state convention this month—but they collected individually from the supervisors.

The board last week turned down a request for money to send the Santa Ana post bugle corps to the Stockton state convention Aug. 7 to 11, and yesterday refused to reconsider its action after Wilbur Getty had asked that the board reconsider.

But after that was done, "Buddy" Roehm went into action with his list of proposed contributors, assessing board members individually.

Supervisor Harry Riley, who last week sounded the keynote of the board's refusal to grant an appropriation on grounds it might set a precedent, said nothing today. He squared himself with the Legion, however, by donating $10. Roehm got $3 each from Chairman Willard Smith and Supervisor John Mitchell, and $2 from Supervisor N. E. West.

tion approved the recommendation of Superintendent Frank A. Henderson to bring Dr. Burton here for the lectures. His services will be paid partly by the institute and partly by contributions by the administrators themselves.

PRESERVED HOG

PINCASTLE, Va.—Willie Huffman's hog is on the water wagon now.

Given some blackberry preserves grown potent with age, Mrs. Huffman fed them to the hog at the rate of a quart a day. When her husband took over the feeding he tripled the ration.

The hog passed out, Huffman said, and when it revived, fell twice in attempting to stagger to another wallowing place.

STOCKS AND BONDS

ABILENE, Tex.—This is a story about a man's cow which tried to send him to jail.

J. M. Waltrip, facing a liquor charge, had completed preparing a $250 bond when he went out to water his stock. A milk cow nosed the document from Waltrip's hip pocket and ate it.

Officers permitted him to prepare a new one.

LOVE IN THE ZOO

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—Loud growls and wolf-woofs disclosed a courtship in the zoo's bear pit today.

Papa Grizzly Bear, gift of Yellowstone park, arrived a month ago. Mama Bear came yesterday. Love-making began immediately.

Park Supt. Ralph E. Griswold smiled.

"It's a bit deafening, but it's a fine romance."

UNION INDIANS

PITTSBURGH—Allegheny county offered a tribe of Salamanca, N. Y., Indians $3 a day each to perform tribal dances at the annual fair. They refused.

"These Indians won't give a whoop except at prevailing union rates," a fair representative reported back.

He explained the braves were earning $4 a day from the WPA. The county hired 40 at the $4 rate.

Sheppard Defends State Egg Trade

Congressman Harry R. Sheppard went to bat today in an attempt to protect Orange county and 19th district poultrymen from economic effects of importation of cheap Chinese egg products.

He appeared before the subcommittee on customs and tariff in Washington, D. C., to favor a bill which would provide an excise tax on imported egg products.

Sheppard outlined his reasons for his stand, saying that California farmers produced more than 125 million dozen eggs per year and that more than 80 million dollars per year was involved in the state's poultry business. He said the influx of Chinese egg products produced under questionable sanitary conditions by labor was endangering the very existence of the poultry industry in his district.

"It occurs to me that the committee has two avenues to follow," he said. "One is legislation to protect the American farmer to the exclusion of the importation of Chinese egg products and the other is legislation to protect industrial investments and other Chinese importations to the exclusion of the general welfare of the American farm poultry producers."

War Referendum Backed by Solon

Congressman Harry R. Sheppard was on record today against war decided upon by a minority.

Word from Washington, D. C., revealed that he has signed the petition to bring the Ludlow War referendum bill to the floor of the house for debate and vote. The Ludlow bill proposes an amendment to the constitution of the United States which provides that except in the event of an invasion of the United States or its territorial possessions, that declaration of war shall not become effective until confirmed by a majority of all votes cast in a national referendum.

"I am not a pacifist," Sheppard said, "and I believe in adequate national defense. I also believe that the people of this democracy and not a small minority should determine whether or not this nation should enter any foreign conflict. If this bill had been a law in 1917 we may have not sacrificed and crippled the thousands of men which our entrance into the World War led by a minority cost us."

Seek County Aid On Admission Fete

A request that the board of supervisors aid in financing a float for the Admission Day celebration program in Santa Monica Sept. 9 was made by Walter Hiskey, of the Native Sons of the Golden West.

Chairman Willard Smith held out little hope to the Native Sons that the county would be able to help finance the program. Hiskey outlined the proposed program, saying the float would help advertise the county.

The supervisors promised to send a representative to a meeting in the city hall tonight when plans for participation in the celebration will be discussed.

Hiskey told the board plans were under way to send the El Rodeo Riding club and its silver mounted outfits, an old Butterfield stage coach from Placentia, a covered wagon and the Santa Ana Legion drum corps to the celebration. Huntington Beach is sending its municipal band, and other cities are cooperating, he said.

URGE EARLY REGISTRATION AT JAYSEE

Instruction Starts On September 10

Students planning to enter Santa Ana Junior college this fall are being urged by jaysee officials to submit their applications by Aug. 15, it was announced today.

Filing of applications for admission at this date will greatly facilitate the registration of students, it was said. The prospective students are also urged to have their high school principals to send in transcripts of their high school records by Aug. 15.

Activities preparatory to the starting of instruction Sept. 13 were outlined today. Freshman days will be held Sept. 7, 8, and 9 on the college campus to acquaint incoming students with the college.

The Freshman days will also give the students an opportunity to consult with their adviser, to take the physical examination, and to register properly, it was pointed out.

Registration of freshmen will be held Sept. 10.

The 1937-38 catalogue will be sent to any person desiring to enter the college, upon request, it was said.

Those wanting a catalogue may call at or write the college office, and one will be sent. It was further pointed out that any high school graduate is eligible for admission into the jaysee.

Those who expect to transfer later to a university must meet the university entrance requirements. Junior college subjects may also be taken to make up any university deficiencies, it was said.

This year, as in previous years, the jaysee has two main types of curricula. They are for (1) those planning to enter professions and upper university division work, and (2) those who want practical training preparing for the semi-professional, business, or vocational world.

S. A. Geologists Discover Mysterious Inscribed Rocks At Indian Prayer Grounds

By EDWARD VELARDE

More information regarding the life of the early Indians who inhabited Arizona and Southwest United States may be brought to light as the result of the discovery of four directional rocks in La Plomosa range of mountains in Arizona by two Santa Ana men.

L. B. Anderson, 718 North Baker street, and John B. Romero, 1226 West Second street, today disclosed to The Journal the finding of the heretofore unknown rocks.

Anderson and his partner, F. C. Brewer, located the rocks, while Romero interpreted the hieroglyphics. Romero is junior geologist in the local anthropological department.

Discovery of the rocks was made last May by Anderson and Brewer when they were prospecting in the region of La Plomosa range in Arizona. The mountain on which the rocks were found is near Quartzsite, a town about 50 miles from Blythe.

The four rocks are each approximately three feet long and 14 inches wide. To the ordinary person, they were easily obscured by the many surrounding rocks.

MANY YEARS OLD

Although the stones are many hundreds of years old, the inscriptions are still clear enough to read. It was impossible for pictures to be taken because they are black basalt. Romero, however, made drawings.

The directional rocks are situated at the peak of a volcanic vent. According to Romero's interpretation, they probably were there as "information posts" for the Indians.

The inscriptions reveal knowledge of food in the surrounding country, as well as giving the correct directions. According to Romero's and Anderson's calculations, the directions are about only two degrees off.

A square is formed around the volcanic vent. Inside the vent it, self, indications show that the Indians used it as a ceremonial ground.

Circling the upper part of the mountain is a wall of rocks about two feet high. These rocks were dragged from the very edge of the cone, Romero said.

TALKS TO MEDICINE MAN

As to the age of the stones, two Indians, both past the century mark, told Romero that they were "many years old." Romero went to a little medicine man named Milqual who was acquainted with the hieroglyphics of his ancestors.

Milqual belongs to the race of Chumash, a nearly extinct race. His ancestors, he said, undoubtedly were the ones who inscribed the basalt rocks.

Chief Toh-Ish, a Mojave chieftain, also assisted in the interpretation of the markings.

From data already at his command and that gained with the aid of old Indians, Romero was able to interpret the main portion of the writings on the rocks.

As a whole, the hieroglyphics reveal the Indian conception of the supernatural.

Others reveal the prevalence of food in the surrounding country, and also the existence of water nearby. This was substantiated by the Colorado river.

The volcano cone was probably the meeting place of the tribe and the place of worship.

Quartet to Sing For Presbyterians

The Sterling college quartet from Sterling, Kan., will offer a program of sacred music at the United Presbyterian church, Sixth and Bush streets, at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow.

Besides the quartet selections, cornet solos, trumpet trios, vocal solos, and a gospel message will be presented. The quartet represents the Presbyterian college and is on tour of the United States for the summer.

The program will include "The Lord Is My Shepherd," "Hallelujah for the Cross," "One Sweet Solenn Thought," and "The Stranger of Galilee." An informal reception in the church parlors will follow the entertainment.

HOG RANCH ORDINANCE HITS DELAY

Supervisors Seeking Status of Farm

The hog ranch question must wait another week.

Postponed, thrown out in court battles, and held up by court procedure, the county's fight against commercial garbage-feeding hog ranches almost reached a climax yesterday as supervisors began checking all applications for hog ranch permits, checked and double checked by the health department.

They struck a technical snag on one, however. The applicant was F. M. Klink, who operates a combination livestock - poultry - hog ranch on the west bank of the Santa Ana river south of Seventeenth street. He has five hogs, which eat offal from slaughtering operations on the premises.

The board couldn't decide whether this constituted a garbage-feeding hog ranch, and decided to put it off a week for further clearing-up of the situation by Health Officer Dr. K. H. Sutherland.

Previously the board had denied the petition of E. F. Silvers for an increase to 200 of his hogs near Dale street and Chapman avenue, under the county's new hog ranch ordinance.

She is Miss Tui Wooley, a graduate of the University of California at Los Angeles. She will fill a position at the high school in art, and for a class or two in home making. She will be paid $1500 a year.

The board also accepted the resignation of Thomas J. Orr, a shop teacher in the Lathrop Junior high school.

The party was decorated with a beautiful pink and blue cake. A wreath of pink and blue flowers encircled it, and tapers in the same pastel shades completed the effect, along with individual place-cards and nut-cups that were miniature cardboard birthday cakes.

Special guests of Miss Vezie were Miss Barbara Johnson and Miss Elizabeth Campbell, while club members present were Miss Alice Wasser, Miss Lee Patton, Miss Mayne Brightwell, Miss Pearl Nicholson, Miss Mary Smart, Mrs. Italy Lee, Mrs. Ethel Hedrick, and Mrs. Marie Peterman.

Mary Stoddard Over-Emphasis of Sex Confuses Young People as to Value of Real Love

No wonder our sincere young folks are confused about love! I am going to speak plainly because some of these letters I receive demand it. Sex is overplayed. Who would dare deny it? The "best sellers" stress it, the plays on the stage and the silver screen, radio programs, popular songs—a careful analysis of all of these will prove the truth of what I write.

PEARSONS HOSTS TO TRI-SONIC MEMBERS

The fortnight which Mr. and Mrs. Leslie M. Pearson and their family have just spent at Balboa island was a very pleasant summer vacation, with boating and swimming every day.

One of their last evenings at the beach resort was particularly delightful, for members of the Tri-Sonic club, which is composed of elective officers of the Jubilee, Silver Cord, and Santa Ana No. 241 Masonic lodges, gathered at the Pearson cottage for an evening party.

Following an afternoon dip a picnic supper was served at a table beautifully decorated in marine motif, with miniature ships sailing on a sea of blue cellophane.

Contract was played during the evening, with high score prizes going to Mr. and Mrs. Carlyle Dennis, and low award going to F. C. Armin.

Present for the enjoyable affair were Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. Carlyle Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Dimmitt, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Hunter and Creighton Hunter, Judge and Mrs. G. K. Scovel, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Armin, the Pearsons, and Mildred, Stanley, and Richard Pearson.

Zucchini Will Tempt The Jaded Palate

Zucchini otherwise known as Italian squash makes a grand lunch-dish and can be stuffed with wild rice and ground round steak, or bread crumbs and leftover meats ground up. It makes an easily prepared dish and one that is attractive to serve. All it needs for an accompaniment is potato chips and a crisp salad such as tomato and cucumber, and you have a luncheon dish that is first rate.

Stuffed Zucchini
Wash 6 medium-sized zucchini, cut off ends; don't pare. Boil in salt water for about 5 minutes, then cut them in halves lengthwise. Remove pulp with spoon, combine with 3 cups soft bread crumbs, 1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese, 1 small onion minced, 2 tablespoons minced parsley, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 2 well-beaten eggs. Fill zucchini shells, dot with butter, sprinkle with cheese. Bake in shallow pan well oiled with olive or cooking oil in moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 minutes. Serves 6.

Sour Milk Muffins
(4 to 6 servings)
Sift 1 1/2 cup flour, 2 tablespoons baking powder and 3/4 teaspoon salt into mixing bowl, add 2 egg yolks beaten with 1/2 cup sugar and 1 tablespoon melted shortening, then add 1/2 teaspoon soda dissolved in 1 teaspoon water and mix well. Add 1 cup thick sour milk. Mix together and fold in 2 egg whites beaten stiff. Bake in greased muffin tins and bake 20 minutes in hot oven (450 degrees Fahrenheit).

Entire Wheat Muffins
(4 to 6 servings)
Mix 1 cup hot milk with 1 tablespoon shortening, 3 tablespoons molasses and 1 1/2 teaspoons salt. Dissolve 1 yeast cake in 1/4 cup lukewarm water and add to milk when milk is also lukewarm. Add 2 1/2 cups entire wheat flour. Beat well and let rise until double in bulk. Again beat and put in greased muffin pans. Let rise until double in bulk and bake at 350 to 400 degrees Fahrenheit (hot) for from 25 to 30 minutes. This recipe will make bread also. For bread, bake from 50 to 60 minutes.

Peach Ice Cream
(4 to 6 servings)
One quart sliced fresh peaches, 1 1/4 cups sugar, pinch salt, juice 1/2 lemon, 2 cups milk, 1 pint sour cream.
Dust peaches with sugar, mix well and mash. Stand 1 hour and then strain through sieve. Add salt and lemon juice. Scald milk, and cool it, then add. Add sour cream, mix well. Pour into freezer and pack in ice and salt, using 8 parts ice to one part salt. Turn crank slowly to get smooth texture. Remove dasher when cream is frozen and stand in ice and salt at least another half hour.

Although there are exceptions to the rule, it is seldom advisable to arrange flowers in a vase or bowl without first taking off all stems and leaves which would be under water.

Youth of Nation Menaced By Weed Grown in Vacant Lots

NEW YORK. (American Wire.) Marijuana weed is grown in backyards and vacant lots throughout the country, and it is becoming a serious menace to high school girls and boys, victims of the dope traffic, according to H. J. Anslinger, United States commissioner of narcotics.

Use of the weed was the cause of more than a dozen recent cases of murder or degenerate sex attacks, Anslinger declares. "Every parent owes it to his

Boo 'Commercials' In Movie Shows

LITTLE ROCK. (AP)—A group of young businessmen will file into a Little Rock theater tonight for the first public appearance of the "society for booring of commercial advertisements in motion picture theaters."

The idea, said Secretary M. C. Blackman, will be "just a little genteel, well-modulated booring by a competent boo leader."

"Listen for the signal," he urged members in announcement directed at all "weary and resentful of having commercial advertisements inflicted upon you when you have paid for entertainment." But there'll be "nothing rough or rowdy," he said.

Sweet omelets are general favorites. Add one tablespoonful of sugar to the regular omelet batter. When the omelet is cooked cover it with fresh fruits or berries sprinkled with sugar. Serve it immediately with syrup, honey or whipped cream. (Fruit may also be used as a filling if the omelet is served half turned over.)

Cook peas and green beans uncovered if you want them to retain their color. Be careful not to overcook green vegetables.

Eczema Is Not Contagious

By C. N. CHRISMAN, M. D.

Eczema is, first of all, not contagious, so we can't blame others for our misery. It is a sheer misery both to the sight and the feelings. Some authority has called it "the itching disease par excellence."

It is, moreover, the commonest of skin diseases, comprising at least one-third of all skin troubles. It does not respect social standing or sex, and age has little to do with it.

Among the causes of eczema are exposure to heat and cold, heavy meals, especially of specific foods, indulgence in alcoholic liquors. Dyspepsia, especially if coupled with constipation, is one of the commonest causes of constitutional eczema.

Most people say they get eczema because their systems are "so acid." That is a general term, but it is true that uric acids and any excess of urates in the system form an excellent irritant and are enough to cause an outbreak of an eczema.

While we advocate the avoidance of too much rich food, especially in infants' diets, we find eczema also among those whose diet is either insufficient or unwise selected. Pregnant mothers or teething babies may both develop eczema for dietary reasons that are concerned with the low-grade nutrition. Very often, mental overwork or worry will bring on an attack of what seems to be eczema but it is usually of the neuro-dermatitic type.

In conclusion, eczema can be cured and constitutional remedies, if used with judgment, are needed. Saline cathartics with plenty of water, diuretics, calomel, mineral waters, as directed, with iron, quinine, cod liver oil or other tonics are all prescribed. Any anemic condition is likely to be a first cousin and from the same source of malassimilation as the eczema and calls for a similar treatment.

Turn the hand over and massage cream into the palm of your hand with the base of your thumb, bend the hand back and forth to loosen the palm and work the fingers in and out to exercise the muscles and keep the hands supple.

With the palm of your hand massage the elbow as you bend and straighten the arm. This helps to make the entire arm flexible. Knead and stroke the muscles at the back of the arm. Wipe off any remaining cream and pat the arms with eau de cologne or skin tonic.

When Folks Drop In
A shelf stocked with ingredients for easy-to-prepare summer meals and afternoon refreshments is more indispensable at this time of year than at any other.

One Main Dish
The impromptu supper or dinner usually centers around a main dish. Such a dish may be hot or cold, depending on the weather and the time necessary for preparation.

Canned spiced meats and corned beef will be found very filling. Pork tenderloins, cooked and chilled, are considered by many people to be as delicious as chicken, although the latter usually tops a list of favorites.

Fresh or canned fish may be mixed into salads and sandwich mixtures. It also may be creamed, scalloped or devilled.

For Hearty Eaters
The wise homemaker keeps on hand certain "substantials." A pot of baked beans, for instance, served with quickly prepared brown bread or bran muffins, and a cabbage or fruit salad never fails to make a hit with guests who like something hearty.

Smoked ham slices, and eggs, may be converted quickly into that old American favorite, ham and eggs. They may be cooked in the outdoor fireplace, at the park or beach—as well as at home.

A large bowl of fresh vegetable salad, several kinds of cheese, crackers or buttered toast and easy-to-make cookies and iced tea provides a fitting climax to the tennis or swimming party.

Cooly dough, frozen desserts, salads, gelatin foods and fruit, berries and melons stored in the refrigerator are effective pinch-hitters for the hostess.

Arms Should Have Careful Attention

By JACQUELINE HUNT

Many girls seem to think that their arms are just something to which their hands are attached. And although they are careful about weekly manicures and the regular application of hand lotion, their attention seems to stop at their wrists.

First, make it a habit to be more thorough in your cleansing methods. Use a hand brush and thick soap suds and scrub from your fingertips to the top of your shoulders every time you wash your hands. Rinse carefully with warm and then cold water.

Buy rich lubricating cream or use one of the liquid balms containing lanoline or rich oils and massage the arms every night or two. Concentrate on the elbows and wrists to make them as soft and smooth as possible. When dressing use one of the greaseless hand creams or a good hand lotion to give your arms and hands a fair, smooth finish.

Massage is an excellent way to prevent flabby upper arms, although exercise is also needed when the arms are too fleshy for real beauty. When they need firming, be sure to wipe away excess cream after the massage or exercise and pat the arms briskly with ice water or eau de cologne.

Here is the massage routine: Apply cream to the back of the hand with the base of your thumb, bend the hand back and forth to loosen the palm and work the fingers in and out to exercise the muscles and keep the hands supple.

With the palm of your hand massage the elbow as you bend and straighten the arm. This helps to make the entire arm flexible. Knead and stroke the muscles at the back of the arm. Wipe off any remaining cream and pat the arms with eau de cologne or skin tonic.

ANN LIVES PLANE RIDES

Big new sign at the entrance to Culver City proclaims: "Culver City—Where Hollywood's Movies Are Made."

This rather lets out the secret of Culver City, Hollywood's new Hollywood, but so far has drawn no retort in this continued tale of two cities.

At the Theaters

WEST COAST
"It's All Yours," starring Madeleine Carroll and Francis Lederer and affording these popular stars the first light comedy roles they have ever portrayed, opens today at the West Coast theater with a second feature, "The Californian."

Harold Bell Wright's fast-moving screen play with Ricardo Cortez in the starring role.

Mischa Auer, featured as a money-marrying French baron in "It's All Yours," hits new highs in hilarity even for him, advance notices say. An unusually splendid supporting cast includes Grace Bradley, Victor Kilian, George McKay, Charles Waldron, Richard Carle and Arthur Hoyt. The picture is a delightful comedy of the popular "screw" brand. The story is of an ugly duckling secretary who inherits four million dollars and tries to spend it all for lessons in love.

Thrilling action against the colorful background of old California highlights "The Californian," which presents Cortez as a phantom bandit who leaves behind a taunting laugh as token of his daring raids. A gallant lover and a gay caballero of the fiestas, Cortez shines as a Robin Hood of the Old West who saves his friends who have been terrorized by usurping adventurers. Marjorie Weaver and Katherine DeMille have leading roles.

Short subjects include a Popeye boiler. Add sweetened condensed milk and stir over boiling water 5 minutes or until mixture thickens. Add toast and bread crumbs, salt and nut meats which have been chopped. Blend thoroughly. Drop by spoonfuls into buttered baking sheet. Press half of nut meat into top of each cookie. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 10 minutes or until brown. Remove from pan at once.

Polishing an Apple for Uncle Sam

That looks like a tempting offer the British are making us on the old war debt.

Let's see, now; we didn't expect to get even a farthing more, not even a bent tax token. We'd decided to forget the whole thing, except to remember not to do it again.

But here come the British, frankly acknowledging the debt—that's something, brother—and on top of that offering to pay a little more than half of the principal, but no interest, either past or future.

Well, even 40,000,000 or 50,000,000 smackers a year—that's what our English cousins suggest paying on account—would help out around Christmas time.

Why don't we snap it up? It's a sweet windfall. Or isn't it?

Perhaps, before we start reaching for the dotted line, we'd better ask ourselves why England has suddenly developed such a bump of conscience about that 20-year-old debt.

It really doesn't seem as though any mere twinge of conscience would move our overseas cousins to start handing out money. It looks more as though the British are trying to re-establish their credit with America so that, in a few years from now, when the "inevitable war" breaks out, they'll be in a position to buy another $40,000,000 or $50,000,000 worth of guns on the cuff.

With Mussolini crowding their heels, this is plainly their game. Wouldn't it be just too nice for anything if, by merely tossing us three or four token payments on the old war debt, they could get us back in the old game of financing European wars?

They made the peace of Versailles.

Let them keep it.

Nearly a million and a half persons are homeless in Spain. This is one of the glories of war.

Resisting Progress

Many a forward step is fought bitterly by the very persons who eventually benefit by it. Senator Pat McCarran of Nevada pointed this out again when he was arguing his train limit bill before the senate.

Sen. McCarran points out that every additional car gives a little more slack to be taken up with a jerk when the train stops. He declared:

"When congress was considering the bill which for years has been the law, requiring that every car used in interstate commerce should be equipped with air brakes, the railroads declared it would cost $90,000,000 so to equip their cars and that it would destroy the railroads. Today not a railroad would come here and advocate a bill that would take that law off the statute books.

"Again, when congress was considering the automatic coupler law requiring every car moving interstate commerce to be equipped with automatic couplers, the railroads came before the committees of the congress and said it would cost hundreds of millions of dollars and would destroy them. Today not a railroad would advocate a bill that would repeal the statute requiring automatic couplers, because the automatic coupler has so reduced accidents and the destruction of property that it is now recognized to be an all-important essential. We no longer have men's arms snapped off by the old link-and-pin coupling device, bodies maimed and destroyed because men have to go in between the cars. We no longer have long hospital lists of men who had to go in and about the cars in order to make the couplings."

Cuba is thinking of adopting the European plan and repudiating its debts.

They Gave All They Could

Amid the strife and crime that stain the pages of the press one sometimes finds a sweet little gem, a ray of light that illuminates the good which lies in every man and woman, rather than the dark strain of evil which so often writhes to the top.

Such a gem, such a ray of light do we consider the story of the five men of Saskatchewan which we clipped from the New York Herald Tribune magazine section:

"Every little while we realize afresh that the people of North America are the most humane and generous on earth. Anna Louise Strong has been touring this continent, raising money for the children of Spain—of all political faiths—who have been made destitute by the civil war.

She reports: Regina, capital of Saskatchewan, is so poor, after seven years of drought, that this year no inhabitant paid an income tax. One-quarter of them have been on relief. But they contributed $300 to help care for the Spanish children. Five men who had just got jobs gave five dollars apiece out of their first week's salary.

Il Duce must be slipping. He had his picture taken with a smile.

F. D. R.'s Program Goes On

When the senate voted late Saturday by a 56 to 28 majority to approve President Roosevelt's wages and hours bill, it gave striking proof that the so-called defeat on the supreme court reorganization hasn't wiped up the administration's program.

The wage-hour bill is now in the house, where it faces a number of changes, but these are for the most part more liberal than the provisions of the bill passed by the senate.

Had the wage-hour bill been defeated, experts predicted that congress would stampede into adjournment without acting upon some of the most important measures to come before it in this session.

Now the senate has taken up another of the key parts of the presidential program, the Wagner housing bill, intended to provide low cost housing. Other major points are plugging loopholes in the tax laws, reform of lower courts, sugar and crop insurance legislation.

It appears that the President may keep his forces in line and hold congress in session until these vital matters are settled.

FAIR Enough

Civic Morals
Of National Leaders

By
Westbrook
Pegler

NEW YORK.—As one who desires to live in a state of grace, I wish someone in the administration would straighten me out on some matters of doubt. Mr. Roosevelt spoke quite sharply about the civic morals of certain prominent citizens a short time back, and I wonder if we are supposed to look to the white house and the government for our example, because, to be quite frank, that example has seemed rather gummy in some cases.

To go back a spell, there was the case of the souvenir postage stamps that Mr. Farley gave Mr. Roosevelt in the honeymoon days of the first term. Mr. Farley said he wasn't aware that these stamps possessed any extraordinary value, and he may be believed.

However, philatelists estimated the value of these gifts as high as $100,000, and Mr. Roosevelt himself is a stamp collector who does know the difference between a rarity and an ordinary three-cent stamp with shirred edges. These sheets were a personal gift and became his personal property, and the fact that a wrong had been done in the giving and accepting was acknowledged when the post-office department, to quiet the clamor of the eight million stamp nuts scattered about the country, duplicated the sheets and made them available to one and all at their ordinary face value.

These are the facts of that case, and how do you like those for civic morals, remembering that Mr. Roosevelt has a stamp collection and knew the value of his souvenirs, though Farley didn't?

THE HUEY LONG CASE

Then we had the indictments of the Huey Long gang on income tax charges prepared by the treasury department at a time when Huey was causing great inconvenience for the deserving Democrats of the administration side in Louisiana. The indictments may have been conscientious, although there was a temptation to suspect that the law was invoked for political reprisals, which would be a hell of a note in a free country, to be sure. Then Huey was killed, and his gang surrendered. Mr. Farley in a political reconciliation described as the second Louisiana purchase, and shortly after all those defendants who had not already been tried or had not compromised criminal charges with cash settlements were absolved of unlawful intent in a little statement observing that there had been a change of atmosphere in Louisiana.

Among the patriots thus whitened was Mr. Seymour Weiss, Huey's collector and treasurer, who was fishing with Mr. Farley last winter and subsequently lent his presence to a social occasion in Mr. Roosevelt's honor in New Orleans. When Weiss fought the party he was indicted for a prison offense, but when he made peace he was exonerated, and how do you like those for civic morals, remembering that the fight was not only a party row, but a personal matter between Huey and the President?

WORKING FOR HEARST

Then we had Mr. Roosevelt's son, Elliott, working for William Randolph Hearst in the radio department of that versatile magnate's varied activities. Radio is a peculiar trade which is beholden to a federal commission for operating licenses, and a son of the President can hardly be expected to get much the worst of it in case of controversy. Distinctly I do not charge or insinuate that Elliott Roosevelt has made illegal use of his relationship, but here is the case of a president's son who criticizes other men's morals working for a man whose interest can gain or suffer according to the disposition of a political commission. And how do you like those for civic morals, remembering the robust political smell of the income tax cases against the Long gang?

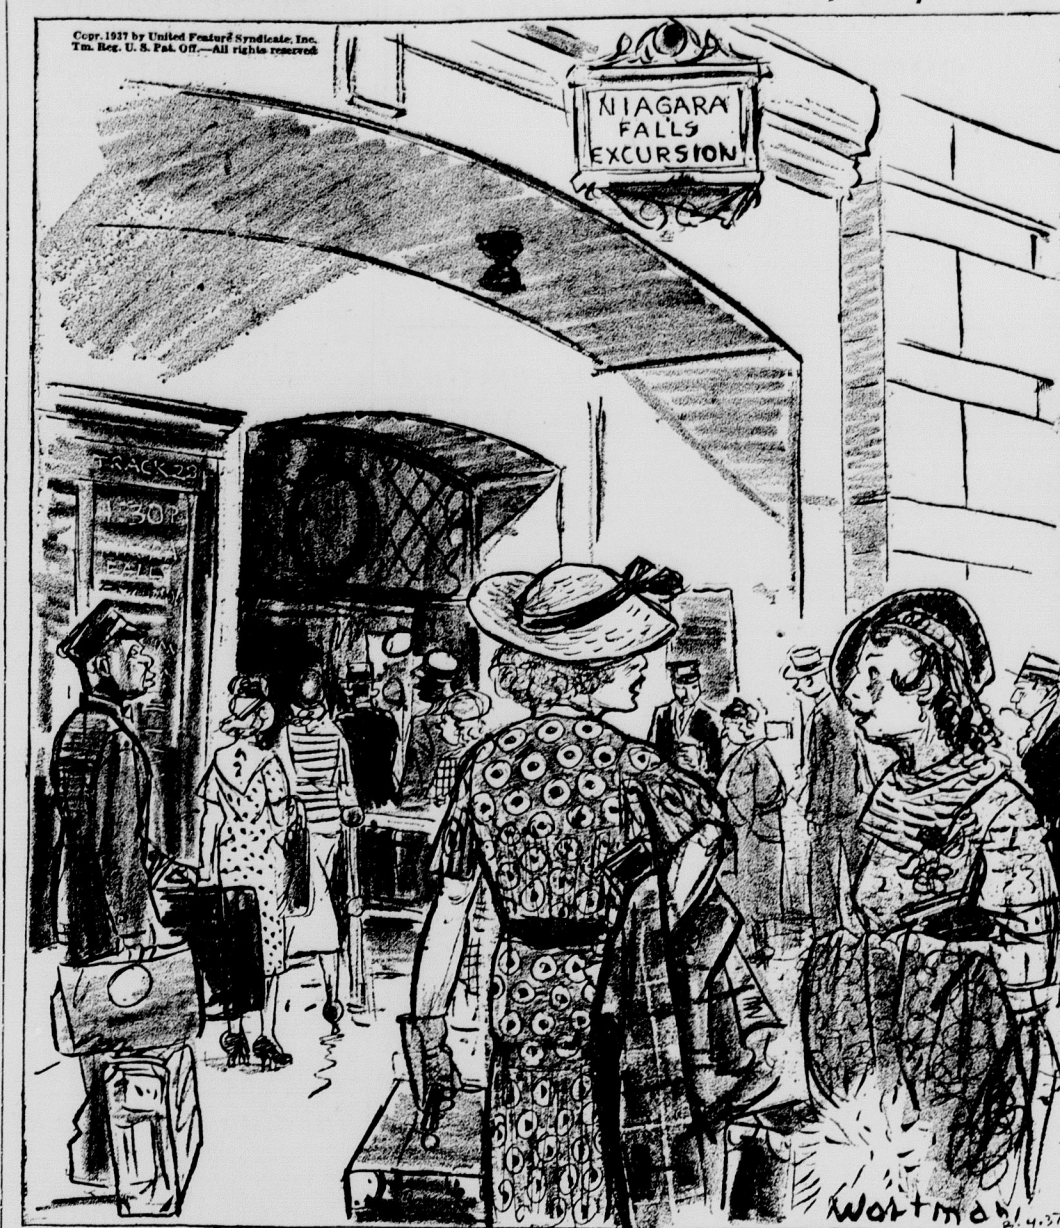

Next we have the recent outburst of moral indignation against numerous private citizens who, by the treasury department's own admission, had complied with the income tax laws but had opposed Mr. Roosevelt's supreme court plan, or like Huey Long, had given him political trouble in other matters. How do you like those for civic morals, in view of the fact that when Congressman Ham Fish, a Republican, wanted to ask a few questions about the President's own income tax, the committee in charge of the witch-burning would not let him open his mouth until he agreed to say nothing about Mr. Roosevelt's return?

SHOULD COME CLEAN

According to my dumb, simple concept of civic morals, a president who points the finger at other men individually has no right to incorporate his own personality in his official position, and when challenged on matters involving his civic morals should demand a full disclosure of his own financial affairs and those of all his family.

So now we have old Charlie Mike, the genius of the Demo-

The cause of the accident has not yet been ascertained, but she was undergoing repairs and the captain as well as the shipbuilders are of the opinion that she can be raised easily.

Miss Florence Mullinix is a busy young lady, but she managed to take time enough today to make a short visit to Los Angeles. She will return early in the evening.

Miss Evelyn Boyd of Santa Ana, visited Mildred Stearns for the night, and went to Los Angeles early this morning. She intends to return home to San Diego by water, some time later in this week.

G. T. Tompkins, wife and niece, Miss Ethel Raines, are having a motor trip to the nearby beaches today. They intend to have luncheon on Balboa island with friends there.

Miss J. E. Jones and Miss Reta Libby left this morning for the week's outing at Oceanside. They intend to return on Saturday evening.

Miss Ila Bishop spent last week at Balboa and returned today.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON.—The President's delay in filling the Van Devanter supreme court vacancy is not due to preoccupation with other matters. It is a deliberate policy of sparing for time. Behind it are three reasons:

1. To prolong the session so the administration's legislative program can be acted upon.

As long as they think there is a chance of an early court appointment, several senators backing their own candidates will oppose adjournment. So by withholding the nomination, the President can counter the strong pressure to go home.

2. Roosevelt has not made up his mind on the selection.

He is torn by two conflicting counsels; one, that he name a reliable, steady, and able man; the other, that he go the whole hog and nominate a ringing leftwinger, such as Gov. Murphy of Michigan or Lloyd Garrison, brilliant young dean of the University of Wisconsin law school and former labor board chairman.

An appointment of the first type would ensure prompt and easy confirmation. On the other hand, a "tough" appointee would mean a fight in the senate. This gives rise to his third reason for stalling.

3. For the time being Roosevelt wants to avoid another battle on the supreme court.

A confirmation struggle would reopen the old battle and might lose him the votes of Democrats who opposed the court reorganization plan. By next January, however, tempers will have cooled.

BRATTON DRIVE

In filling the vacancy, the President is under tremendous political pressure from a number of quarters.

The biggest drive is behind the candidacy of Circuit Judge Sam Bratton of Albuquerque, N. M. Forty-nine years old and red-headed, Bratton has been a member of the New Mexico supreme court and twice was elected to the senate, from which he resigned several years ago to accept Roosevelt's offer of the circuit judgeship.

He is rated as a moderate liberal or ordinary ability, and his appointment would stir up no opposition. This is the strongest point in his favor.

KEY APPOINTMENT

All political factions are watching Roosevelt's choice with intent interest, because the man selected will be a significant clue to the whole political situation. A mid-plained the young man, "I got here before any of the others."

Being vice president of a business has its advantages. He can always alibi a conference when the installment collector calls.

The Mailbag

Public opinion, or what somebody in office imagines to be public opinion, is our ruler. If public opinion is active, the politicians and people sit up and take notice. There is a definite need for outspoken talking and thinking on public matters. Honest, intelligent criticism is a definite contribution to the formation of public opinion. The Journal invites letters to The Mailbag.

WANTS WPA CLEANUP

To the Editor: The Santa Ana Independent of Friday, July 23, thought they had a scoop regarding the conditions as purported to exist within the WPA in Orange county.

If my memory serves me correctly, I remember reading in your paper about a month or six weeks ago an article in which practically the same conditions were recited, or exposed, and I distinctly remember the name of Russick, and the complaint registered by a worthy taxpayer because he held down a WPA job at $175 per month while his wife held a job with the city of Santa Ana police department at $110 per month. And I might add here that such a situation smacks of both politics and exploitation.

Now it is an old and wise maxim that says: "Where there is smoke there is also fire." It seems to me that there is a good bit of smoke centering around the WPA administration in Orange county and in particular around that part administered under Fred P. Jayne, and I am sure that an investigation would find the fire.

As a matter of fact, and record, the taxpayer is always the goat, it is he who pays. Now as one of these said taxpayers I have given the situation a good deal of thought during the past week and have come to the conclusion that the WPA is a racket and business men of the county on the matter and it seems to be the consensus of opinion among them that the WPA workers are being exploited and that the conditions as outlined by your paper, and also the Independent, do prevail here and that the workers themselves are in the position of being fearful of complaining to the department heads lest they lose their jobs.

As we see it there are three factions to be considered, the taxpayers, the workers, and the politicians. The facts of the matter are that while the former two are greatly in the majority they are both being exploited by the latter minority.

As I understand it the county board of supervisors sponsors a great many of these WPA projects and of course as such spend the money of the county. They are supposed to do for the benefit of all concerned, and for the purpose of relieving the relief situation. Now if they are allowing the WPA parasites, I say this in reference to any person who is drawing WPA money when they do not need it, or other words are not on relief, to absorb the taxpayers' money then they are falling away short of being good representatives of the people.

The proper place to dump this mess is in the laps of the supervisors and then drape ourselves around their necks until they insist upon a square deal for the workers and thereby assure the taxpayers of a square deal.

It is high time that the taxpayers and the workers go together and let the taxpayers' committee be the go between for the workers, presenting the situation to the board of supervisors.

With this end in view I would appreciate an expression, through the mail box, from either the Townsend group or the legion group as to whether they will donate the use of their hall for such a meeting. If so I will arrange it and I will promise the workers one of two things, either the situation will be cleaned up by the board refusing to sponsor any further programs unless all workers are legitimate relief workers, or there will be no more WPA projects.

Because when the taxpayers and the workers get together they can go to town like the politicians never dreamed of.

JOSEPH T. HANSEN,

RAPS WOMAN EDITOR

To the Editor: If Mrs. Nell Murbarger, Costa Mesa's super-snooper, had ever been forced to live on the starvation wages paid the WPA and SERA workers, I doubt very much if she would have been so quick to condemn an organization which is only trying to raise those wages to a point where a man can live instead of merely exist.

Personally, I'm not acquainted with the lady, but I'll wager she drives a fine car and spends more for clothes than we would make in two months time. What can such a woman's bias know what it means to have to really work for a living?

I'd like to ask Mrs. Murbarger two questions. First, she states she attended meetings for four months "but always supposed they were above board until they threw her out." She went on further to state that she had aided them and cooperated with the Workers' Alliance and had never worked against them. Lending the impression that it was all just a cozy little family when she attended the meetings.

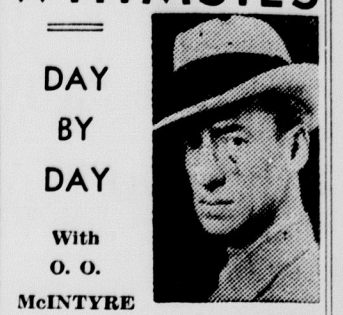

And yet, when Mrs. Murbarger finally got thrown out, she proceeded to remember a lot of things that had been happening, which if she had been sincere in her beliefs she should have reported long before. Can it be then, that Mrs. Murbarger was just attending these meetings to see what she could learn?

If so, I am afraid she is wasting her time as the editor of a country weekly. She should have a good soft job with the district attorney's office — as a stool pigeon.

NEW YORK.—Jay N. Darling, known to the world of cartooning as "Ding," is the only member of his craft to make good in New York, find it distasteful and hike back to the hills. He began his career on the Des Moines Tribune to which he returned a number of years ago.

Ding, like Webster and Tad, suffered an affliction in his right arm that forced him to learn to draw with his left. There was a time when he drew an hilarious comic strip which was the talk of the syndication field. He has a highly developed sense of broad humor.

But he had a colossal aversion to the "paw" school of cartooning. He is the son of a preacher and a bit of preaching appealed to him—the sort of preaching that a front page cartoon can do. He is one of the cartoonists to express independence of thought.

He will attend editorial conferences and listen to suggestions but refuses to delineate any idea that does not accord with his own views, political or otherwise. Big cities depress him and he thinks Des Moines the ideal sized place in which to live.

Various observatory towers such as the Empire, Chrysler and Radio City have increased the vogue of advising on roof tops tremendously. From these observatories one may see ads of department stores, proclaiming sales; hotels, announcing attractions in their grills, etc. One institution plans a large electric sign that will glow skyward solely for tower visitors and airplane passengers.

Nostalgia: I never visit crowded streets such as Delancey with sidewalks over run with children that I do not think how much these tots must be missing. No tall sycamores grow there, no coyotes howl at night, no red squirrels scamper through fallen leaves, no woodpeckers tap out their afternoon music. A copy reader with whom I once worked on Park Row told me sadly that being city born he had missed the thrills of boyhood he had read so much about in small towns. His most vivid childhood memory was of being asked by old women to chase to the corner for a bucket of beer.

So often men who occupy big desks in the dizziest spires are found great hands for fishing and the outdoors. At a casual glance they seem to express Harvard, rowing on the St. James, a post graduate at Oxford, and the like yet in reminiscent mood you find they know intimately the woods and streams—the big mouth catfish, the mallards that visit in the autumn, all the barnyard animals and fowls, how a horse's fetlock is constructed, how a cow's tail works, and such. It is difficult to imagine such a man perfectly at home in a deep cushioned chair with his late afternoon Scotch and Schweeps at the Union Club. And I don't believe he is.

Marshall Neilan now and then goes on an eating binge. All of a sudden he acquires a yen for M. Fredrickson's version of the pressed duck à l'Hour d'Argent or for a chine of beef at Simpson's on the Strand and off he goes. On a recent excursion he found the finest oysters at a little place called Constantine's in Mobile. And the best red snapper at the Columbia in Tampa. The fellow that runs it made the blend and served it all the coffee for Alfonso before Spain booted him. Neilan found good cooking, too, in St. Petersburg, Fla., especially mullets. They take the stalk of a palm, split it down the center, fashion a fork, then stick these forks in a circle around an old fashioned bonfire and let the mullets roast, after which they are dipped in drawn butter—oo, la, la.

They were talking of high in similes. Until something better comes along my vote goes to Noel Coward in "Present Indicative" who similes: "Fears twittered in my stomach like birds in a paper bag."

I have come to know—being one of the guild—that the fellow who has quit drinking becomes pretty much of a nuisance discussing alcohol.
